

Creeping Toward Daly City

BARTD MARCHES ON—Concrete foundations for Bay Area Rapid Transit District trains have moved within 2,000 feet of the Daly City terminus site on Knowles Avenue. The City Council recently reached agreement with BARTD on construction of an aerial station in the city and formal acknowledgment is expected soon. The trains will run along aerial tracks atop these pillars and drop into a "cut" as they reach the Daly City station. (Post Photo)

BARTD Approves Design For Daly City Terminus

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Bay Area Rapid Transit design engineers have been given the green light to proceed with structural design of the Daly City terminus station for the 75-mile system.

The matter had been tabled for the past two years because of a continuing hassle between BARTD and Daly City over what type of station would be constructed on the 13-acre Knowles Avenue site.

Last week, Daly City councilmen ironed out the last of several problems facing them on the station and sent word to BARTD the city was ready to proceed with necessary agreements between the two agencies.

BARTD's Engineering Committee, in a meeting Wednesday, was informed of Daly City's latest decision by assistant general manager, Kim Kimball, during a progress briefing.

Committee chairman Garland Graves instructed the staff to complete the proposed station design in accordance with new agreements between the district and Daly City.

The proposed station will be a low profile aerial station tucked into a "cut." The slope of the land in the area will partially conceal the station from above. Below the station is the Junipero Serra Freeway.

Meanwhile, draft agreements are expected to be reviewed by the city attorney's office this week and presented to the council for study next week.

Optimistically, construction of the station could start in early 1970, a BARTD spokesman said.

Driver Education

Jefferson High Faces Auto Shortage in Dealer Demise

By WILL E. THOMAS

The demise of one Daly City auto dealership and the dropping by another of its major car line could cause complications for the drivers' education program in the Jefferson Union High School District in Daly City and Pacifica.

Dr. Floyd Gonella, assistant district superintendent for special educational services, acknowledged Thursday that the district — though "not really suffering" at the moment — could face a drivers' education car shortage, because Gateway Chevrolet closed its doors earlier this year and Donahue Chrysler-Plymouth recently dropped its franchise in favor of a compact automobile.

Gateway last year provided seven cars, while Donahue had three autos in the program, said Dr. Gonella. Presently, there are no cars, since the drivers' education program has not yet begun.

Although on paper the district is down ten cars, the slack could be taken up — Dr. Gonella won't know for at least a week or better — by other dealers in San Mateo County.

For instance, a new factory-operated Chrysler-Plymouth dealership has emerged quietly on the old Rudolph Ford property in Daly City, and Dr. Gonella only learned about that at mid-week, he said.

Dr. Gonella said the district's program is evolved around 23 cars, which, he said, "go full-blast all the time."

On the average, he explained, some 2,000 high school students receive driver training. Adults enrolled in the district's night school also use several of the cars on Saturdays and in the evenings, Dr. Gonella said.

He sees a distinct possibility there will be a car shortage.

"If the slack is not taken up," Dr. Gonella pointed out, "we'll be in very serious trouble in order to provide the service to the students we have qualified to take drivers' training instruction."

Nonetheless he admitted it will be a week or more before he could really be certain if complications really are going to plague the program.

"It will be about three weeks," he said, "before the loss of ten cars will be felt."

If the slack is not taken up by other agencies, Dr. Gonella declared, "we would have to establish a priority list for students."

A Big Boy Scout Roundup Tonight

More than 1,700 boys are expected to enroll in cub and boy scouting programs during the giant back to school night October 1.

Displays, exhibits, and programs will be staged at various schools from Menlo Park to Daly City at 7:30 p.m. that night. The program is coordinated with the Bay Area Back to School night.

Fine cooperation has been received from various school superintendents in the county reports Jack Russell, back to school night chairman.

Following is a breakdown of the actual schools which will be open. There are more than 95 sites open tonight.

Parents are particularly invited to attend with their youngsters to learn of the adventure of scouting. Folders and pamphlets explaining the program and including sign-up forms will be distributed to all youngsters prior to the night. In addition, posters have been prepared for buses, for stores and schools and milk cartons will carry the scouting message. Television and radio spots have been prepared also.

The schools open that night in the north county include:

Tour By Bus Will Retrace Portola Trail

"San Francisco Bay Rediscovered" is the theme of the bus tour arranged by the San Mateo County Historical Association for October 4 when they retrace Portola's trail in San Mateo County which culminated in the famous Discovery Site on Sweeney Ridge.

The tour is a part of the Bicentennial Celebration in California honoring the 200th anniversary of Don Gaspar de Portola's explorations.

It was in 1769 that Portola was commissioned by the Spanish government in Mexico to locate and occupy Monterey Bay.

Confused by the appearance of Monterey Bay by land he and his little band of 62 men continued up the coast as far as San Pedro Creek.

From there the party climbed what is now known as Sweeney Ridge to be the first white men to view San Francisco Bay.

The tour buses will travel from the Historical Museum on College of San Mateo Campus to Half Moon Bay, then visit Portola campsites at Pilarcitos Creek, Princeton, Monterey and Martini Creek before climbing Sweeney Ridge to the discovery site. (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Next week $150 will be offered to the contestant picking all 15 games correctly.

Contestants are reminded that a $150 bonus will be awarded to a cash prize winner who is a home delivered subscriber to The Times.

Contest deadline is midnight, Thursday, October 2.

IMPROVEMENTS GROUP

'Eyes and Ears' of S.S.F.?

By BOB PETERSON

One resident referred to the group as "the eyes and ears" of the citizens of South San Francisco.

Another said it "is a move in the right direction. Even if we are wrong, we have had a part in our city government."

Undoubtedly the nearly 50 other citizens attending the organizational meeting of the Citizens' Committee on Capital Improvements Thursday had their thoughts, too.

Their job is that of advising the city council on what capital improvements would be best for South San Francisco over the next ten years.

The cross-section, which included representation from all parts of the city, was made up of housewives, realtors, ministers, businessmen, technical people, retired people, and several identifying themselves as "taxpayer."

City Manager Tom McKenzie passed around a sheet of paper so the citizens could sign up to become a member of one of three subcommittees.

These were Public Works, for those interested in street, sewer, storm drain and related improvement areas; Parks and Recreation and Cultural, for those interested in this aspect of the city, and Public Safety, involving such things as police and fire protection.

A meeting quickly was set up for the Public Safety Committee at 7:30 p.m., October 2. McKenzie said the Parks and Recreation and Cultural and Public Works subcommittees probably would not have their first meetings until late in October.

The committees, as laid out by McKenzie, would not only advise the councilmen on what projects they feel should have first priority in improving the city, but whether these projects are progressing fast enough.

"This city has always paid cash for its improvements," said McKenzie. "The sewage plant and minor projects in the late 1940's — which are mostly paid off now — are the only things the city has gone into bonded indebtedness on. This is unusual. Possibly there are other means of financing.

"Capital improvements are pretty much like home improvements," he said. "They both cost lots of money and last up to 30 to 40 years. And you don't pay cash when you buy a house."

McKenzie said the city staff has a list of proposed projects that will be submitted to the individual subcommittees. "You people will evaluate these suggestions," said McKenzie. "We want you to tell us what you think. Don't just listen to much?"

According to Mayor Frank Bertucci the request to establish the subcommittees was made by McKenzie.

Finding New Police Chief Slow Process

(Earlier Story, Page 10)

The slow process of selecting a new police chief for South San Francisco continues.

Councilmen are scheduled to meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday with members of the personnel board in executive session to discuss the pros and cons of open and closed examinations.

The meeting will be a continuation of a council session adjourned for this purpose last Friday.

Although no progress was made on selecting a new chief at that special session, councilmen did vote on two other matters.

They passed a resolution granting a blasting permit to Cabot, Cabot and Forbes and their contractors working near the Oyster Point Marina.

And transfer was made of Pacific Gas and Electric Company expense to place the street lighting system in Buri Buri Number 1 to PG&E for renovation and modernization.

City Manager Tom McKenzie said this move means the city will be paying slightly higher rates but will no longer have maintenance responsibilities.

SAN BRUNO CHAMBER

Census Figure Compilation 'An Aid to Businessmen'

An informative booklet has been published by the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce, giving a complete and thorough breakdown of all aspects of the city.

Ititled the APB (for Area Percentage Breakdown) reports, the booklet is available to chamber members free. It sells for $5 to non-members.

Kil Menkin, chamber manager, said, "The booklet was published after I had received numerous requests for a city breakdown by census tract."

"My original plan," he added,

"was to get all chambers in the area interested in doing the same thing. It will surely help businessmen know where to advertise, for example."

The statistics in the report were compiled from the 1969 California State Department of Finance Census. The make-up of the community is divided into nine tracts for a more accurate analysis.

Tract analyses were made on such things as income, shopping, residences, occupation, age, general ranking, whether persons own or rent, even the

Coast Youth Service Bureau

County's Plans Nearly Complete

Planning for a Youth Service Bureau in Pacifica is about completed and the project is due to become operational soon.

Recruitment by the County Delinquency Prevention Commission of a coordinator, who will be paid $16,000 a year, is in its final stages. The deadline for applications is October 6.

"The project will get off the ground when the new man is hired," says Richard B. Hazel, commission consultant who has been doubling as acting coordinator.

The purpose of youth service bureaus, as stated by the California Delinquency Prevention Commission, is "to offer an incentive and opportunity for local agencies, both public and private, to pool their resources and develop innovative programs to divert young people from entering into the juvenile justice system."

Once in operation, the bureau might work this way: Take a 14-year-old boy picked up by police for joyriding in a "borrowed" car. Ordinarily, he would be booked at Hillcrest Juvenile Hall or cited to the probation department. In this case, however, he would go in for a conference with the coordinator and it might just turn out that he would be referred to a social service agency in the community and would not have to go to Hillcrest or juvenile court.

"Many youngsters are being caught up in the juvenile justice system that shouldn't be there," Hazel says. "If these cases can be handled in the neighborhood, we will all come way out ahead."

Juvenile court is not what it used to be, according to Hazel, because of the growing emphasis on the legal rights of those brought before the court.

"Once the juvenile court judge could be paternal, helpful. Now he finds himself presiding over legalistic adversary proceedings."

Helping put delinquent or delinquent-prone youth on the right track—away from the court—is, of course, the chief purpose of the program. But its by-product, Hazel points out, will be to help relieve overcrowding at juvenile hall and the workload of the probation department and judge.

The Pacifica bureau is one of nine in California that have been granted state and federal funds of $25,000 a year for three-year demonstration projects.

"I am confident that this concept is going to mushroom around the country," Hazel says, "and that youth service bureaus are going to proliferate."

Pacifica's application for a government grant was based on its being a "problem community." Although Pacifica has the second highest delinquency rate in the county it has received little attention from social service agencies, Hazel states. In 1967 the city had 10 per cent of all referrals to the probation department although its population is only five per cent of the county total.

The city of Pacifica has been "exceptionally cooperative" in planning for the bureau, Hazel states. Adequate office space in the city hall has been promised and the Delinquency Prevention Commission is counting on the city donating accounting services, a telephone, office furniture and supplies. Hazel gives credit to County Supervisor Jean Fessler, Pacifica's first mayor, for arranging for the city's contributions.

The probation department is to donate one full-time officer to (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Old Navy Base

Possible School Site?

Superintendent George Lawry of the San Bruno Park Unified School District has confirmed the district's interest in securing part of the Navy "surplus" property in San Bruno for a future school site.

Lawry said the district, prior to the Vietnam war, has made application for the site adjacent to the 26 acres the Council of Churches Housing Development Corporation of San Mateo County is seeking for a planned development.

"We applied under a deferred use claim (on the first application)," said Lawry. "And if it hadn't been for the Vietnam war we would probably have the property today."

The superintendent also indicated the district favored the Council of Churches' planned community, and had "asked that group to help us get the property." The school will take kids from this housing project as well as children from apartments already scheduled for construction in the general area.

"Now that this land is once again being put up as surplus, it is an opportunity to get a school site free, if we can get it," said Lawry.

"If another Federal agency wants it, they get it. If no one else wants it, it goes to the Department of Health Education and Welfare (for disposal by the General Services Administration). Here's where we come in. We've made inquiries and put out feelers asking people to help us get this land," he said. "And because of our prior application — which had been approved — we feel we're in a good position."

Lawry said the district's proposal is for construction of both an elementary and an intermediate facility. "The school will get children eventually," said Lawry.

He pointed out that the construction of new Interstate 380 is going through present school sites, taking away playground area.

The Council of Churches' objective, as outlined by Dr. Haven Doane, chairman of the board, is for quality low and moderate income housing for middle, upper mobile and economic bottom class groups.

The difference among S&L's is the service they offer. Colonial has a heritage of service. All Colonial offices are dedicated to their communities. Most have been a part of their towns and neighborhoods for many years — so the people they serve are friends. Colonial, you see, believes that there is at least one thing more important than the fact it pays high interest. And that's upholding its reputation for being a pleasant association.

number of bedrooms in their homes.

A word of caution in the booklet's introduction states that in analyzing the breakdown two facts should be kept in the proper perspective: the size of the tracts and the "no response" answers.

For example, the questionnaire response on a densely populated tract probably would carry more impact than a tract that is sparsely populated.

Also, according to the booklet, the reply to "no response" varies greatly. Generally, the less educated and the lower income areas gave more "no response" answers.

The booklet points out that San Bruno is generally a blue collar city with a dominant new white collar area. A percentile breakdown shows white collar, 23.1 per cent; crafts men-mechanical, 26.3 per cent; clerical-sales, 15.7 per cent; service-laborer, 14.9 per cent; and retired — not in working force (unemployed), 10.9 per cent.

Census taker observation showed 10,086 caucasians; 49 blacks; 109 Orientals; and 529 Spanish surname residents. The mean wage is between $10,000 to $15,000. The majority of residents shop in San Bruno, work in San Francisco and own their own homes.

The higher income areas also have a higher than average per household population. The majority have lived in San Bruno more than five years and own their own homes.

This group generally rank high in the young age bracket and the wage earners are mainly professionals, technical people, managers, officials and proprietors who work in San Francisco.

They also have the poorest San Bruno shopping habits.

There are two tracts designated as lowest income areas. One is the largest in the survey in households with 2,493. It has the lowest number per household and the lowest age group under 18. This tract also has the highest retired and unemployed fraction.

In addition, this tract is considered "quite transient" with 23.6 per cent living in San Bruno less than one year. They generally are laborers and mechanics who work mainly at San Francisco International Airport, South San Francisco and San Bruno.

A tract map (as shown) aids the user of the booklet in obtaining more exact percentile breakdowns.

He said that "perhaps, some of the students would not be able to be involved in the program. I really can't say at this time."

It was emphasized that any cutbacks in the program — should there be any — would be through a shortage of automobiles, not because of reduced district funding.

Remind Seniors Of Aid Deadline

"Some 23,000 California Senior Citizens have already received 1969 Senior Citizens' Property Tax Assistance checks amounting to three million dollars," Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan (D-SF) said today. The South San Francisco Democrat also issued a reminder that October 15, is the filing deadline for the 1969 claims.

"This is the second year of the California Senior Citizens' Property Tax Assistance Program," he said. The program was adopted by the Legislature in 1967 to aid Senior Californians in paying their property taxes. It provides for a refund of the claimant's property taxes ranging from one per cent to 95 per cent, depending upon the claimant's household income.

Ryan said this program should not be confused with the Homeowner's Property Tax Relief Program which was the first step by the Legislature in providing general property tax relief to California residents. "Senior Citizens are eligible for both programs if they can meet the qualifications," he said.

To be eligible for Senior Citizens' Property Tax Assistance, claimants must be over 65 years of age as of January 1, 1969, must own and occupy their home, must have paid the property taxes on the home, and must have a total household income of less than $3,350. Qualified individuals can obtain forms from any office of the Franchise Tax Board or by writing to Senior Citizens' Property Tax Assistance, P.O. Box 1588, Sacramento, California 95807.

First Concert Planned At S.S.F. Library

The new Community Choralers, directed by Patti Parks and sponsored by the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department, will present its first local concert on Friday evening, October 3, in the auditorium of the West Orange Avenue Library. There will be no admission fee, and light refreshments will be served.

Accompanied by Mrs. Cheryl Duncan at the piano, the concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. Two outstanding North County artists are scheduled to appear in the solo spotlight. They are soprano Claire Latham of South San Francisco and lyric soprano Doreen Marlow of Broadmoor.

Choral selections geared to suit the taste of a wide age group include: "I Won't Kiss Katy," Slavonian Wedding Kola Music; "The Water Is Wide," Folk Song; "Sound of Music Medley"; "Campfire Blues," Western Novelty; "Hello Dolly," with string bassist Johnnie Ingraham featured; "Look For the Silver Lining," with duet by Roy and Doreen Marlow, and Johnnie Ingraham on string bass.

Director Patti Parks is widely known throughout the county for the many choral ensembles she has formed, and for her successful Voice Workshop classes given during the past ten years in the Adult Education Program of the JHSJ, at both Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools, and also for one year in the South San Francisco Adult School. She has appeared with her night club act, The Entertainers, throughout the state.

Guest speaker on the tour will be Robert Schenk of the Treganza Museum, at San Francisco State whose subject is the role of the Indian in the Portola explorations. Tourgoers will also be given a booklet containing excerpts from the three diaries of the expedition.

D.C. Board Hears Protest By Officer of Suspension

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Sharp exchanges between attorney Charles Garry and Daly City attorney Albert Polonsky punctuated the hearing of suspended police officer William Moeller during a lengthy hearing before the personnel board Thursday.

Most of the clashes resulted from objections to methods of cross-examination of witnesses in the case and the "mystery" of several missing police radio master tapes.

The hearing concerned officer Moeller's two-day suspension for failure to answer a nuisance call last July 8.

Moeller protested the suspension, allowing he was busy working on another felony (auto theft) case that arose while he was en route to the nuisance call on Beechwood Street.

Garry, nationally known for his often-controversial defense of Black Panther Party members, informed the five-member board that while the penalty was not severe the "integrity of officer Moeller" dictated that he fight the suspension.

Steve Hansen, former police dispatcher and presently in charge of police records, cleared up the mystery of why a tape—made subsequent to the night in question—was not available.

Hansen explained that the tapes are destroyed, or "erased," ten days after they are made, unless a superior officer instructs him to do otherwise.

The master tape concerning all police calls during the shift that Moeller worked (about 3 p.m. to 11 p.m.) was presented as evidence. Although Garry did not object to this evidence, he insisted on knowing the whereabouts of police tapes made for later that night and the next morning.

There was no reason to keep the tapes and they were "erased," Garry was informed.

Garry also questioned the accuracy of dispatch time cards and officers' work sheets.

He pointed to a blotched time card used to dispatch Moeller to the Beechwood nuisance call and asked why this double time stamp appeared on the card.

Dispatcher Charles White, on duty the night the call came in, testified that the "double stamp" often occurred as a result of the size of the card inserted into the time clock.

Polonsky throughout the hearing maintained that Moeller had neglected his duty by not following through on the assignment or informing his superior officers that he was unable to complete the call.

The complaint, itself, concerned several possible bullet holes in the front window of a Daly City home while the occupants were away.

Because of the minor nature of the incident, officer Moeller was granted permission to finish his supper and then respond. En route to the address after dining, Moeller apprehended an auto theft suspect and returned to the station with him.

The personnel board's decision on the case was not expected to be handed down for some time.

Uncle Is Awarded Orphans' Custody

Custody of four orphaned South San Francisco children, products of a mixed marriage, was awarded to their black uncle and aunt.

In awarding guardianship to Benjamin and Yvonne Gaines, Presiding Superior Court Judge James T. O'Keefe had nothing but praise for the youngsters' white grandparents, who have been taking care of them and also sought their permanent custody.

"No one is the loser in this proceeding," Judge O'Keefe said. "Victory, if called such, is reflected to all concerned by insuring the future welfare of the children, Christian, Michael, Laurance and Linda."

The jurist said the racial factor had absolutely nothing to do with his decision in the case, which attracted worldwide attention. He said he favored the plan for the children's future as submitted by Mr. and Mrs. Gaines over the one proposed by the grandparents, Chester and Leona Rygielwicz of Milwaukee.

The age of the grandparents was also a factor. Judge O'Keefe said. Rygielwicz, a millwright, is 55; his wife is 54. Gaines, an air force sergeant with 18 years of service, is 36. He is stationed at Langley Air Force Base in Virginia but is awaiting transfer to Hamilton Air Force Base in Marin County.

The youngsters—Christian is six, twins Michael and Laurance are five and Linda is four—are the children of Laurance and Marcia Rygielwicz Gaines. Gaines, who was black, died in 1965 of an overdose of sleeping pills. His widow, a white registered nurse, was fatally injured in a traffic accident last July 31.

Bookmaking Arraignment Is Put Off

Sixteen of the 17 persons indicted last week by the County Grand Jury on bookmaking and conspiracy charges appeared in Superior Court last week, winning a continuance in arraignment until October 8 at 9 a.m.

Attorney Thomas Bocci, representing five of the defendants, requested the continuance, stating he wanted a chance to read over the indictment and to read the Grand Jury transcript, which has not yet been completed.

The only defendant not in court was Arthur DeGregoris, of Pacifica, owner of a San Mateo service station. He is the lone defendant who is not charged with conspiracy.

Name Change For Parkway Is Opposed

A proposal to change the name of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway to San Pedro Road encountered opposition before the County Planning Commission Wednesday.

The Daly City Mission Merchants Association had proposed that the parkway, which traverses San Bruno Mountain, and the portion of East Market Street between Third Avenue and Hillside Boulevard in Daly City be renamed San Pedro Road.

In the audience yesterday when the proposal came up for hearing was Donald N. Hohl, chief engineer of the Crocker Land Company, which controls San Bruno Mountain. Hohl said his company might not insist on retaining the name Guadalupe Canyon Parkway but would be opposed to renaming it San Pedro Road.

TRAFFIC WAS tied up for nearly three and a half hours on San Bruno's Sneath Lane September 23 after a two-and-a-half-ton truck smashed into a power pole and overturned, and sparks from a high-tension electrical line started a hillside fire. San Bruno police said 18-year-old Steven J. Moran, a truck driver for Pacific Poultry Company of San Francisco, was westbound on Sneath, between Skyline and Junipero Serra Boulevard, at 12:35 p.m., when he swerved and lost control of the van-type vehicle, which struck a pole and overturned.

A New Electronics Lab At D.C.'s Westmoor High

Westmoor High electronic students this year have been greeted by a new sight as they enter the electronics lab. A new electronics lab has been installed, in the hopes of giving the students a broader and clearer view of what happens in the many facets of electronics.

Lloyd Harrich, Westmoor's electronics teacher spent three weeks installing the equipment which is priced at over $6,000. "Sometimes I spent days and nights working on the lab, but it wasn't very hard. There was just a lot of it to do," Harrich had help though, as one of his

"The lab is not only for my advanced students," says Harrich, "I plan to have my first year students working at the lab by spring."

Consisting of 15 stations, the lab is a mass of knobs, buttons, dials, and meters, representing six pieces of equipment at each station: an audio generator, radio frequency generator, volt-ohm meter, oscilloscope, high voltage power supply, and a low voltage power supply which has yet to be installed.

Bi-Partisan Ryan Dinner Is Friday

Bi-partisan support for the Leo Ryan Testimonial Dinner at the Le Baron Hotel in Burlingame on October 3 was announced today by dinner co-chairman Frank Bertucelli, Mayor of South San Francisco. "The list of dinner sponsors," Bertucelli said "includes fourteen city and county officials, with five Republicans, eight Democrats, and one Independent."

According to Mayor Bertucelli, the public official sponsors for the dinner, which will feature Dr. S. I. Hayakawa as guest speaker, are Robert St. Clair, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, San Mateo City Councilman Roy Archibald, San Bruno City Councilman Karney Barberian, Burlingame City Councilman William Crosby, Daly City Councilman Edward Dennis who is also the president of the Milk Drivers' Union, Portola Valley Mayor Sam Halsted, Pacific City Councilman Danie Foster City, Wayne McFadden, Ryan Dinner Committee, P.O. Box 202, South San Francisco.

Mayor Bertucelli called this bi-partisan backing "a most impressive tribute to Assemblyman Ryan for his efforts on behalf of all of the people of San Mateo County." Tickets for the dinner, at $25 per person may be obtained by writing to the

Earn a bank-safe 5%

Now you can earn the highest possible bank interest and take the risk out of saving. Simply select from a variety of our plans the one that best suits your needs. And start earning a big 5% right away. Just make an initial deposit of $500 or more. And you'll be able to sleep at night knowing that your bank-safe account is insured up to $15,000 by the F.D.I.C. Which of these accounts is ideal for you?

1. First Bank Special Passbook Account could be perfect. Open it by the beginning of the quarter and your 5% interest will be computed and credited at the end of each calendar quarter. You can withdraw the funds during the first 10 days of any quarter after they have been on deposit for 90 days. Otherwise, give us 90 days written notice. Add to your account as often as you wish with a deposit of $100 or more.

2. First Bancertificate of Deposit lets you forget about the calendar. You tell us when to begin. You set the maturity date for 90 days or other periods up to one year. We'll pay the 5% interest at maturity date or quarterly, as you wish. You can make withdrawals up to 10 days after it matures. If you prefer, your account will automatically be renewed.

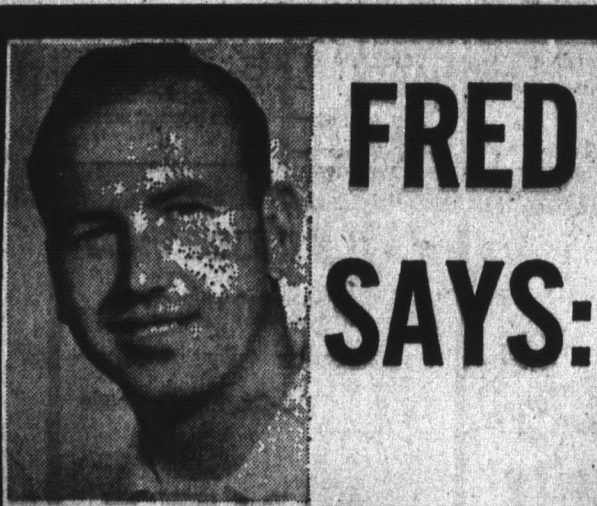

3. First Bankopen Account, open it any time and earn 5% interest from day number one. You'll get a passbook and you set the length of time to maturity. Every 90 days your interest will be computed and compounded regularly as clockwork.

4. We even have Guaranteed Interest Bonds! This is for big savers with $5000 or more. No matter what happens these bonds earn you 5% interest for the next five years. The First Bank Income Bond pays you interest every 90 days while the First Bank Growth Bond earnings are redeposited automatically for a total no-risk average return of 5.68% per year. If you can't decide which savings plan is best for you come on in to any office of First Western Bank. We'll help you to make a selection. After all, helping our customers with their financial planning has helped us to become a $950 million bank. It won't take many of you to push us over the billion dollar mark.

Four persons were arrested, including a 16 year old Dublin, California girl, for possession of marijuana. The three adults were also charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Officers Jewel Bacon and Ray Mutter went to 1260 Edgeworth Street apartment 205 on a nuisance complaint and found the suspects allegedly engaged in smoking the drug.

In the kitchen, officers said they found a large marijuana plant growing in a flowerpot.

Arrested was Darrell Paddock, 21, and his wife, Shirley, 19, of 1260 Edgeworth Street, apartment 205; Russell Louis Outlaw, 21, of 467 Evergreen, South San Francisco; and the youth who was sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

The potted pot was confiscated for evidence.

Choraliers In Concert

The new Community Choraliers directed by Patti Parks and sponsored by the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department, will present its first local concert on Friday evening, October 3, in the auditorium of the West Orange Avenue Library. There will be no admission, and light refreshments will be served.

Accompanied by Mrs. Cheryll Duncan at the piano, the concert will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Club Patrols Parking Lot At Westmoor

During the school year, the Westmoor Auto Safety Club, led by George Chrestenson is patrolling the school parking lot before, during and after school. Students may receive tickets for such violations as parking in bus lanes, exceeding the 15 mile-an-hour speed limit and smoking in cars.

A safety check is conducted by club members, when Westmoorites apply for parking spaces in the school parking lot. Included in the safety check are brakes, front lights, rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear-view mirror and horn. After the student and his car completes the safety check he is assigned a parking space.

Students who receive tickets must appear in a student traffic court, where the traffic cases are heard. Mr. Chrestenson has tried to make the court as realistic as possible, hoping to increase the members' knowledge in the area.

Auto Safety Club president is Tom Jacobson. Student traffic court judge is Bill Welch.

A 'Back To School' Event At Crestmoor

Parents of Crestmoor High School students will see if they can still fit into those high school desks when Crestmoor opens its doors for "Back-to-School" night, Tuesday, October 7.

P-TA President Walter Moore will greet the parents at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre. After an introduction of new faculty members by Principal George Kristovich, parents will follow an abbreviated schedule of classes enabling them to meet their child's teachers. Each teacher will present a short outline of the course content in the class, and answer questions as time permits.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria at 9:30 p.m. Last year's Open House was a great success, and the Crestmoor staff expects a large turnout again this year.

Disabled Pacifica Boat Rescued

Three Pacifica fishermen were towed into Half Moon Bay harbor at 9:30 a.m. Monday after an all-night search by the Coast Guard.

The Half Moon Bay harbor-master notified the Coast Guard to call off the search when the overdue runabout was towed into Half Moon Bay by another fishing craft, the "Pescadero."

Rescued were Algot Falk, 1143 Galvez Avenue, Linda Mar; Bob Olsen, 65, of Pedro Point, and Joe Garero, 55.

Mrs. Falk phoned the Coast Guard when the trio failed to return home by 9 o'clock last night. She said they had left Princeton harbor at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, headed for "five mile reef," or "seven mile reef."

The boat they were in, she said, is a 19-foot Gulfstream, 1969 model, with inboard-outboard engine. It is equipped with flares, anchor, and oars, "seven or eight" lifejackets, and two buoyant pillows, she said.

Her husband and the other two men, she told the Coast Guard, are experienced fishermen and familiar with the area. They were carrying a walkie-talkie radio, she said, but no other radio equipment.

The runabout has a white canvas "cabin," she reported.

Coast Guardsmen ordered the 95-foot cutter "Cape Wash," from Monterey, into the search. It arrived in the area at about 2:30 a.m., and has been searching ever since.

Coastal fog cut visibility to about one mile, Coast Guardsmen said, with 300-foot ceilings and five-knot winds. The ocean was fairly calm, they said, with three-foot swells.

Coast Guardsmen expected to throw an aircraft into the search, at about 10 a.m., when the morning sun burned off the coastal fog bank.

Future of SSF Arts Guild Topic of Talks

By BOB PETERSON

A meeting is scheduled this morning (Wednesday) between members of the South San Francisco Arts Guild and Robert Maxey, superintendent of Parks and Recreation, to discuss the future of the guild's theater group.

The group's future in South San Francisco is somewhat in doubt because of a decision made by Parks and Recreation commissioners last Thursday.

At that time, the commissioners recommended that the square dance groups retain use of Siebecker Center, and that the Park and Recreation Department would continue to co-sponsor all square dance groups in the city. Two groups have been using Siebecker Center for the past ten years on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Commissioners also recommended that the Arts Guild theater group could use the center on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. They instructed Maxey to work with the guild to see if better arrangements could be made elsewhere in the city. The theater group, because of the nature of their art, has indicated it needs a place for rehearsal every day of the week.

The commissioners were following advice of councilmen at a joint meeting September 17. Councilmen told the commissioners to prepare a recommendation that would satisfy both groups.

It all started at the September 2 council meeting when Vernon Bronco, 461 Gardendale Avenue, appeared before the council saying his square dance group was being asked to vacate Siebecker Center.

He cited a letter signed by Maxey which stated the eviction was requested so that the theater group could use the center, and make South San Francisco their permanent home.

Maxey maintained that the square dance groups had been advised more than two years ago that they must meet a 50 per cent residency requirement for members of the group or lose use of the center and co-sponsorship of the Park and Recreation Department.

At the September 17 meeting he said it would be "desirable if the theater group be allowed more nights (use of the center) if the city is to gain a cooperative arrangement with Skyline College."

Under this arrangement, the facility would be used two nights a week for an adult education dramatics class for credits on the college level. Maxey suggested that if the square dancers realign into two "local" groups, the Park and Recreation Department would be happy to co-sponsor them.

Since the recent commissioners' recommendation, Maxey said the next move would be to see if there is any possibility of making use of Magnolia Center.

"Maybe we could develop portable sets," said Maxey. "If this can be done, we can stay with it. If not, the theatrical phase of the Arts Guild of this city may fall. However," added Maxey, "I'm not optimistic that something can be worked out."

Robert Bridges Jr., chairman of the South San Francisco Arts Guild, said the recommendation of the commissioners has left him "very pessimistic" about the outcome.

"One thing," said Bridges, "the Arts Guild 1969-70 calendar will not be affected at all, regardless of what happens with the theater group."

The preliminary calendar for the season begins with a photo exhibit on October 21 of Japanese woodblock prints. There are activities scheduled through June of 1970.

Bridges has been very instrumental in setting up the Arts Guild. Back prior to the 1968 city elections, he, along with other citizens active in arts in the community, began formalizing the objectives of the guild. They let their desires be known to the city council candidates and anyone else who would listen.

At that time a college freshman at San Francisco State,

Bridges approached Maxey about his plans, which included a theater group. "The fact that he listened to me at that time," said Bridges, "and has taken all the initiative he has, is a tribute to his understanding of the needs of the city."

Bridges, incidentally, is now working on a master of arts degree in interdisciplinary creative arts at San Francisco State.

Meanwhile, from the efforts of Bridges and other culturally interested citizens a cultural arts committee was set up to assess the cultural needs of the city.

The committee was approved by the city in a resolution introduced by Councilman Frank Mammini. Committee members were selected from a list of interested persons who answered a questionnaire on why they wanted to be on the committee.

This interim group evolved into the present committee chaired by Bridges. Other members include Vince Mager, Gordon Murphy, Mrs. Diane Marlon, Mrs. Anita Meidl, and Edward Toby. The first year the cultural arts committee sponsored a number of activities.

"We had worked out a program, but had no funds," said Bridges. "Through our own contacts we sold memberships at $1 per individual and $3 a family for the entire season. We had exhibits, lectures and other activities which were held in various places but mostly in the West Orange Library.

"We had tremendous cooperation from the library, Maxey and the schools. We were able to present these programs, in most cases free to the public and in all cases, free to the members, and not lose any money."

"At this time, we also were trying to make contact with a theater group," said Bridges. "And also during this period, the city council had budgeted $3500 to the Arts Guild for the purpose of insuring that we could meet our expenses. We had no hope of making money, or even breaking even during this summer program." Bridges indicated, however, there is still approximately $800 left from the budgeted $3500.

When the contact finally came from a theater group, it was made by the Julian Theater players in San Francisco. Doug Giebel was directing the group, which has since changed its name to the South San Francisco Civic Theater Group.

Giebel, who holds a master of arts degree from San Francisco State, also has taught both speech and creative writing at San Francisco State. He is now free-lancing.

When the issue concerning use of Siebecker Center was first brought out, Giebel was on vacation.

"Something that seems to never have been cleared up," said Giebel, "is that from a director's point of view, we don't want, and have never wanted Siebecker Recreation Center."

"Naturally, we want a place to perform, and we used Siebecker this summer, because it was available. (The square dance groups relinquished their use time to the theater group.)"

"We have talked with recreation people constantly about looking for another place. I don't like Siebecker because it's at a bad location, has bad lighting and in general isn't laid out for theater use."

"The most important point to get cleared up, and I hope I'm not cutting my own throat, is that we have no designs on torpedoing the square dancers and taking over the building."

Giebel had much praise for the community support of the theater group. "The people have really been working hard to bring this thing about," he said. "We want to go into South San Francisco because we've already done a lot of leg-work there. Any community would benefit by it. Our objective is to put together a theater group which would draw audiences from all the communities around."

"But," said Giebel, "at this crucial time when we are trying to get a start, we don't want to create hard feelings, cause alarm or fighting for use of the center. Siebecker to us was a last resort. We need a place we can use 24 hours a day, like Hillbarn Theater."

As far as the matter between the group and Skyline College is concerned, Dave Marin, head of Skyline's evening college, said that depending on how things develop the college would budget "no more than $2500" for partial sponsorship of the group.

"It has been traditional for the San Mateo College District to support the arts," said Marin. "This is part of that long established policy."

Marin said Giebel is not now a member of the school's drama department. "If the theater group gets on its feet (somewhere) in South San Francisco, and has a growing program we'll be happy to help out," said Marin.

That's about where it stands — or falls.

Bridges indicated his group would probably be asking the city for an additional $3000 for production expense for the next year. The Art Guild has a budget of approximately $14,000 for this year.

Giebel has plans to do several plays, a Greek comedy, a melodrama, one he wrote himself, plus at least two plays for children.

The only thing missing is an auditorium. That brings the group back to where they started.

A MAYOR CLAIMS:

'I've Never Seen Black Plumber Or Electrician'

The mayors of San Mateo County Friday pledged themselves to passage of affirmative action programs to assure employment of minorities in each of their cities — but not without some opposition and some sharp shots in the direction of construction trade unions.

Meeting in fog-shrouded Moss Beach on San Mateo County's Coastside, the San Mateo County Council of Mayors passed an affirmative action resolution by a voice vote after agreeing a tabulation of votes would only embarrass individual cities.

Councilman Herbert G. Petersen of Redwood City was the first to question the proposal brought forth at a previous meeting by Herbert Rhodes, chairman of the East Palo Alto Municipal Council.

"I don't really know what to say," Petersen, a rigging contractor, cautioned. Pointing out that contractors must accept men the unions send them, he suggested the program be extended to the unions to "put onus" on them. "If we cannot receive a minority person from the union, we'll be stuck and out of a job. I am frustrated in not knowing what we are doing."

Rhodes retorted, "I will say to the contractor and the councilman that the Palo Alto program is a good one, although it could be better."

(Earlier the mayors had discussed affirmative action programs already adopted by Palo Alto and Santa Clara County and under which a new Palo Alto municipal center is being constructed.)

"While we had some difficulty with some contractors finding craftsmen, the program went through with less vandalism, less trouble than in any other job we have had. We proved we put our action where our mouth is."

Murray said San Mateo has an affirmative action ordinance drafted and is about to pass it.

Mayor R. David Martin of Burlingame, another contractor, cited criticism from trade unions after the matter had been brought up at an earlier meeting. He noted that the Plumbers' Union had denied it did not hire members of minorities and had submitted a list of 15 to 20 union members who were members of minorities, most of whom, he said, were Mexican-Americans.

Martin used himself, Peterson, Brown, and Councilman Nat Landes of Woodside as contractors who have had difficulty getting minority members from union hiring halls. He did note, however, that he had seen a black rigger for the first time recently.

"Not from Local 3," Petersen retorted.

"I've never seen a black plumber or black electrician on any job," Martin asserted. "No matter what they say, this is true. You spend three hours with a labor relations man and then go out and call the union hall and you get none."

Councilwoman Grace McCarthy of Pacifica said she would have to vote against the resolution pledging each mayor to seek an affirmative action program in his own city, not because she was opposed to it but because she was worried about its implementation.

"We need to know more how this is going to work," Mrs. McCarthy said, expressing concern that under such a program contracts might cost cities more.

Mayor Nick Gust of Pacifica, was one of two who voted against passage of the resolution. When a vote was called for, Gust demanded a secret ballot, saying, "I know what our position is."

"If you call a roll by cities, it is obvious you're going to embarrass some cities," Martin agreed.

"I do feel we have moved in the right direction," Rhodes stated when it was obvious the resolution had received a majority vote. "You have done this without fear, without force. You have done it because there is a need."

Promotional Exam For Fabbri Post?

South San Francisco Personnel Board members will declare to the city councilmen their intention to hold a departmental promotional examination to fill the position being vacated by the resignation of Police Chief John Fabbri.

Walt McNamara, chairman of the Personnel Board, said the membership also has requested a meeting with the councilmen for the purpose of checking, and possibly updating, the position's specifications. The exam the board now has for this position is more than 10 years old.

According to McNamara, some of the board members have been confronted by citizens interested in the procedures involved in filling the post.

"There is no mystery to it at all," said McNamara. "The machinery is all there to handle these things." He cited several recommendations of the city

Topless Law Not on Daly City Agenda

Suggested guidelines for implementation of the Quimby-Walsh Act, a recent piece of legislation signed into law by Governor Reagan, will not be on any of Daly City's upcoming agendas.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett has instructed city manager David Rose to "take it off altogether."

The act concerns itself with proper dress for waiters and waitresses, especially in so-called "to please businesses" throughout the state.

In a cover letter, State Senator Lawrence E. Walsh said the new act restores local control of "topless and bottomless entertainers to local government."

"It is the intention . . . in enacting this chapter to eliminate any conditions conducive to the creation of health hazards which might arise as a result of the unclad exposure of the human body. . . ."

The act is explicit in its control of clothing for those persons coming in "close proximity" with food and dictates that these persons must be covered with clean clothing or uniforms from their clavicles down to a point deemed sufficient to provide a "shield" between the food and the person serving it.

As one city official explained: "We'll worry about topless and bottomless waitresses when they try to operate here. Right now we have the situation well covered."

Too Much Talking Not Enough Action On Regional Govt.

The seeds of revolution against the Association of Bay Area Governments were sown at Friday's meeting of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors in Moss Beach when the mayors, almost to a member, agreed the regional agency has done almost nothing for San Mateo County.

Councilman John J. Murray Jr. of San Mateo accused ABAG of attempting to "create a creature unresponsive to our needs," and Councilman Barney Barberian of San Bruno asked, "What has ABAG really contributed to this county in the last five years?"

Menlo Park Councilman James W. Caloway asserted: "We stand here and see our Bay being filled and polluted and our air being polluted. ABAG does nothing. Do not be lulled into believing you have a regional body to take care of regional problems. ABAG has no authority whatsoever. We must be members to obtain federal grants. (Federal grants to local governments must be processed by ABAG.)"

"Don't put all your eggs in ABAG and hope to have your problems solved," Caloway continued. "We must have a regional body of elected officials. ABAG is the United Nations of the Bay Area. All it does is talk."

Mayor R. David Martin of Burlingame, chairman of the mayors' council and a member of a committee investigating ABAG since Thomas Truax, a former ABAG official, absconded with more than $100,000 said, "I am glad people are coming around in favor of having directly elected officials."

The matter was brought up by Mayor Lewis Grasberger of Millbrae, the county's representative to ABAG, who asked the mayors to take a stand on proposed revision of the agency's bylaws which come up next month.

Stereo Taken In Auto Theft

A stereo unit, tapes and an am-fm radio were stolen from the parked car of George Castro of 707 Madox Drive, Broadmoor, Saturday night, police report.

Entry to the vehicle was made by prying open a right wing window. Value of the stolen items was set at more than $210.

manager, the council makes the appointment."

Another section says "Promotional examinations may be specified by the personnel board as open only, as promotional only, or as both open and promotional whenever the need of the service (department) requires."

McNamara said the board felt there are well qualified and trained personnel within the police department.

Bruno Youth Held; 'Drug' Discovered

An 18-year-old San Bruno youth has been booked by San Bruno police on charges of possession of marijuana.

Michael Darich, of 1510 Claremont Drive, was arrested in his car, parked at the Southern Pacific depot in the 400 block of Huntington Avenue.

Police said officer Richard Reed was on routine patrol in that area at about 8:30 p.m. last night. He saw the suspect's car in one of the dark areas of the lot.

Upon approaching the vehicle, the officer smelled a peculiar odor. The occupants of the car—including one other 18-year-old male and two 16-year-old girls—rolled up the windows. The driver also was seen placing something beneath the car's seat.

Boys 'High' On Drugs

Four Daly City teen-agers — all reportedly "high" on second pills — were picked up Sunday as they waited at a gas station. The oldest, a 17-year-old, was later sent to San Mateo County Hospital for treatment after he lapsed into an unconscious state.

Four Flee Fire

Four persons, including a week-old infant, escaped a smoky Pacifica home without injury early Sunday.

Fire officials in the coastal community said the garage of the Charles Ehrhorn residence at 689 Montezuma was fully involved by flames when they arrived at 3:20 a.m.

Flames licked out of the garage from every opening and shot some 15-feet into the air. Firemen, upon their arrival, were told by neighbors that four persons still were in the house.

However, firemen were unable to find anyone in the home, and a further check disclosed owner Ehrhorn, his wife, and the couple's one-week-old child, and the baby's grandmother were "all safe and sound, watching the fire" on the patio, a fireman said.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. The garage was totally and there was smoke damage throughout the house.

Firemen Win Praise

There's at least one San Bruno resident who appreciates the work of the city's firemen.

Mrs. R. B. Peterson, 170 Crosby Court, expressed her feelings in a letter to the councilmen.

"We called the fire department and within seconds, it seems, they responded. They were very cooperative and efficient," said the letter.

Councilmen instructed the city clerk to pass a copy of the letter to Fire Chief Herbert Freitas.

WESTLAKE—open evenings; wednesday, thursday and friday

DATEBOOK Louanne Heath

The Pacifica branch of the Association of American University Women will observe a long-time traditional event on Sunday when the membership holds its gourmet dinner.

According to Caroline Bourell, president of the chapter, this dinner, assembled from the prize recipes of club members is one of the social highlights on the AAUW fall calendar.

Guests will park below the hilltop home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Tretten and be shuttled up the steep driveway for the first course of the repast. The festivities at 118 Dardanelle Drive will begin at 5 p.m., Miss Bourell reported.

As in previous years, the dinner is open to all members and prospective members and their husbands. Tickets for the evening are available for $1 per person. Interested localites are asked to call Mrs. Tretten, 359-4290, or Mrs. Paul Azededo, 355-5545 for reservations or to obtain more definitive information.

New parishioners will be the honored guests at a coffee hour being hosted by the members of the Altar Rosary Sodality of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica on Sunday morning.

According to Mrs. Stan Prowse publicity chairman for the sodality, coffee and doughnuts will be served to new parishioners following each mass on this coming Sunday.

Members of the sodality will attempt to greet all newcomers and make available to them information about the various parish organizations so that the newer members will be aware of what types of activities are being sponsored by the parish.

In addition to the preparations for the get-acquainted sessions Sunday, members of the sodality are making plans for the annual pot-luck dinner which will be held on Wednesday, October 15. Mrs. John Wynne has been appointed to the chairmanship of the dinner, Mrs. Prowse said.

From Mrs. Clifton D. West, president of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild, comes word that the response to the guild's fall house tour, Les Maisons Magnifiques, has been extremely gratifying.

"We are delighted the people are so enthusiastic about touring the seven magnificent San Francisco residences that our chairman, Mrs. Victor Dowdle has selected," commented Mrs. West, "each home has its own distinctive charm."

According to Mrs. West the ticket donation of $5 per person will include the tour of the seven homes, plus a champagne reception and tea at the Forest Hill club house.

Those interested in attending the October 15 event are asked to contact Mrs. Dowdle, 731-5954, or Mrs. Arthur Sullivan, 755-0828.

Among those who appreciated the recent visit of the Jett's Petting Zoo to the Westlake Mall was Mrs. John Madrosen, well known Daly City educator who is director of the Lakeside Presbyterian Church nursery school.

During the week the zoo was in the mall, Mrs. Madrosen arranged for three of the classes from her school to make trips to visit the animals. More than 50 children were involved in the outings.

The Riordan High School Mother's Guild will present their annual luncheon and fashion show on Saturday, October 18 at noon in Chaminade Hall, according to Mrs. LaVerne Calonic, publicity chairman for the group.

Mrs. Milton Blank and Mrs. Gus Mazzon are the luncheon chairmen and they have selected the theme "Fantasy in Fashion." H. Liebes and Company will provide the latest in fall styles for the event.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ernest Winter 664-3748. Donation for the luncheon is $5 per person.

In an effort to encourage the exchange of stimulating ideas, suggestions or gripes, the Art Guild of Pacifica has formed a steering committee.

According to The Dirty Palette, the committee's function will be a general policy formation guide for future exhibits and activities.

Don Carlson is the chairman of the new committee and he is assisted by Mrs. Roberta Ewald, Mrs. Lynn Buchanan, Mrs. Shirley Scollini, Mrs. Doris Fletcher, Mrs. Patricia Wommack, Mrs. Fred Rautman, Mrs. Lucy Muir and Hermann Loger.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan informs members of the Fifty Plus Club that it is not too early to begin thinking about ideas for the Halloween Party on the club agenda for October 28.

With the Hawaiian tour slated for mid-October, members will have little time to come up with new and clever ideas for costumes unless they begin making preparations now!

The other Halloween feature which requires advance study, is the ghost story competition. Story-tellers had best search through their material and brush up their spooky-story-telling-technique. Prizes will be given for the best story telling and the best costume, Mrs. Calhan reports.

Mother and Son Featured in Play

A Daly City mother and son combination are featured in the upcoming Pacifica Spin-drift Players' production of "Portrait in Black." Marge Russ and her son Kurt are carrying out both acting and production commitments for the play which is being readied for an October 10 premiere.

Kurt has the supporting role of Blake Ritchie, while Mrs. Russ is co-chairman of the wardrobe committee. Others in the cast include Charlene Amick and Bob Lawson as Tania Talbot and Dr. Phillip Graham, Patti Cort and Prince Serrechia as Winifred Talbot and Rupert Marlowe, and Bobby Rigling as Peter Talbot. Kyne Catton and Bonnie Jespersen support in the roles of Cob O'Brien and Gracie McPhee.

Tickets may be obtained from any cast member or by calling 359-5915. Prices are $2, $1.25, and 75 cents for adults, high school, and grammar school students, respectively.

Reduced rates for groups of 15 or more may be obtained in advance by contacting Mrs. Virginia Johnson.

Sight-Saving Fund Effort by Lions

"While the idea of a red-tipped White Cane to identify its bearer as being blind was a Lion innovation of 40 years ago, and reflected a pledge of the Lions Clubs of that day to serve the blind, the present day concern of Lions for the plastic White Cane worn by friendly neighbors to identify them as donors to Lions White Cane Days appeal."

That was today's reminder to local residents from McRobert Stewart, president of the Daly City Host Lions Club, who noted that the Lions' eighteenth annual sight-saving fund event will be held Friday and Saturday.

"In 1927, Lion George Bonham, then president of the Peoria, Ill., Lions Club, advanced the first suggestion of the White Cane, and it has become accepted indicator that the user is blind," he added.

"In small town and big cities alike, throughout the world, people pause to befriend the carrier of the Lions White Cane," Stewart explained.

Paralleling this success is the acceptance of the symbolic miniature White Cane as a part of the Lions service to the blind, Stewart said. In 1951 the Monterey Park, Calif., Lions Club asked the citizens of its city to donate to the club's sight conservation fund, giving a miniature White Cane made of pipe cleaners and tipped with red ink as a receipt.

The $500 proceeds of that effort nearly quadrupled the customary amount in the Sight Saving Fund.

Thirty other Lions Clubs asked to be supplied canes for the next year, and the number has grown each year.

Now it is the official blind fund-raising project of Lions of the 800-club Multiple District Four, California-Nevada, and is used by hundreds of other clubs in the United States.

In this two-state area the total proceeds of the Eighteenth Annual White Cane Days is expected to approximate a quarter million dollars. One hundred per cent of the funds collected is exclusively dedicated to the sight work of the local club.

"We estimate that in the California-Nevada area alone, White Cane Days have raised three and a half million dollars to benefit the thousands of blind and sight needy who look to the Lions for help," President Stewart pointed out.

"The great good of the myriad of other eye-oriented projects made possible by volunteer Lion solicitations on the street corners and in public places has more than repaid Lions and their donors over the years."

"A generous gift to the White Cane Days will help the Lions help the blind more effectively in 1969," he concluded.

DALY CITY MAYOR Bernard (Bud) Lyeett signs proclamation declaring October 3-4 as Lions Club White Cane Days in Daly City. Standing with the mayor (left to right) are Daly City's two Lions Club presidents, McRobert Stewart (left), Host Club, and James Howard, Skylions, and Caroline Rickenbacher, Miss Daly City.

Newlyweds Will Live In Millbrae

After a wedding trip to Santa Rosa and Lake Tahoe, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilfred Merkh (Victoria Jean Ladley) will make their home in Millbrae.

They were married in a recent ceremony at Grace Lutheran Church in San Mateo by the Rev. Carl Hiller. The Peninsula Golf and Country Club was the reception setting.

Victoria, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dixon Ladley of Millbrae, walked to the altar with her father. She wore a silk organza gown with a pointe de Venise lace yoke, collar and hemline border. A headpiece of the same lace caught her elbow-length veil.

Jewel blue gowns with white pointe de Venise lace trim were worn by her attendants who included Mrs. Gary Schoessler, her cousin, as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Arthur Ladley, her sister-in-law, and Martha Jane Ladley, her sister.

Gary Schoessler stood with Ralph, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Merkh of San Bruno, as best man. Ushers were William Arthur Ladley, brother of the bride, Lawrence Walton, James Bauman and William Curley.

Among the guests were Mrs. Grace Ladley of San Francisco, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tracy of Irvine, aunt and uncle of the bride.

The new matron and her husband were graduated from Cuyahoga High School and the College of San Mateo. Ralph has a brother, Roger Merkh of South San Francisco, and is a deputy with the San Mateo County Sheriff's Department.

Buttons And Bows Event At Olympia

Mrs. Robert Spira, president of Olympia - Rivera P-TA, will conduct the monthly meeting at the Olympia School multi-use room at 10 a.m., October 7.

"Through these regular monthly meetings the parents are kept informed of what's doing at our schools and encouraged to voice their own comments and suggestions," Mrs. Spira said.

The program, "Buttons and Bows," which follows the business meeting, will offer an "idea exchange" of sewing, knitting, crocheting, needlework and other do-it-yourself ideas that will spark ideas for gifts, especially for the forthcoming holidays.

Bring samples of your creations and be prepared to take home many new ideas. Mrs. Ernest Michels and Mrs. Charles Newhall, membership chairmen, have announced the start of the annual P-TA Membership enrollment. The theme this year is "Flag on the Moon."

Holiday Greeting Cards For Contributors to ACS

The 1969 selection of holiday greeting cards bearing the imprint of the American Cancer Society and available to ACS contributors is on display at the society's San Mateo County Branch office, 1517 South B Street, San Mateo.

Four distinctive and different designs are offered.

The cards indicated to the recipient that a gift has been made to the Cancer Society.

According to Branch President Dr. Robert O. Holmes, the ACS holiday greetings "are increasingly popular with business firms and professional people who wish to remember associates and clients with a contribution to the common good rather than an elaborate gift."

One of the designs, exclusive with San Mateo ACS branch, is the contributed work of a local artist, Rhetta (Mrs. Benjamin) Worcester of Hillsborough. The Santa and Christmas tree motif in green, red and gold is silk screened by hand by the artist.

The prospective bride is a 1967 graduate of Westmont High School. She is presently enrolled at San Francisco State College and will continue her upper division studies in home economics.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed H. Nagata of Kingsburg. A North County Couple Is Wed

Friends and relatives of Billie June Hatchett and Michael Paul Comer gathered at the Aldersgate United Methodist Church in South San Francisco on Saturday for their wedding.

The Rev. Gilbert Vieira read the vows before an altar banked with white gladioli and baby white pompon chrysanthemums. Orange and white bouquets marked the pews along the center aisle, and tangerine and white carnations were used to continue the wedding theme at the reception at Russo's Terrace Room.

Billie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hatchett of South San Francisco, and her husband is the son of Mrs. Marylee Comer of South San Francisco and Paul Comer of Oakland.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Billie wore an Empire, A-line gown of dulcet satin and Chantilly lace with long sleeves and a lace border at the hemline. The same lace was repeated on the detachable train, and lace petals and a crystal coronet caught her silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white orchids, carnations and stephanotis.

En route to a honeymoon at Clear Lake, Lake Shasta and Lake Tahoe, the new matron changed into a beige and brown suit with a brown polka dot blouse. She added orange shoes, hat and bag.

Linda Seybold preceded Billie down the aisle as matron of honor in a tangerine Empire gown with a beige lace bodice, long Juliet sleeves and an orange satin belt. The bridesmaids, in similar gowns included Kathy Althoff, Ellen Minucciani, Barbara Pascone, Paulette Keck and Brenda Hughes, cousin of the bride, a junior attendant.

Matching velvet Dior roses caught their blusher veils, and they carried tangerine carnations.

Michele Herron was her cousin's flower girl in a tangerine colored frock with beige lace sleeves. She carried a basket of orange baby roses. David Neal acted as ring bearer.

Mrs. Hatchett welcomed guests at the reception in an apricot coat and dress ensemble with a jeweled collar and matching accessories. Mrs. Comer chose a turquoise long sleeved dress with box pleats and matching shoes and bag. Both mothers pinned on cymbidiums.

Tom Kennedy fulfilled the duties of best man for Michael, and the ushers included Kenny Boston, Pete Drier, Walter Von Haufler, Mark Brock and Tom Brown, cousins of the benedict.

The couple will live in Pensacola, Fla.

All Nations Feast Slated At Jefferson

All of Daly City's ethnic and cultural groups have been urged to take part in the Feast of All Nations sponsored by Community Interaction Through Youth at Jefferson High School on Columbus Day, October 12.

Plans for the afternoon event call for there to be samples of food from all the various cultures, a fashion show displaying the costumes of nations around the world and a talent show with some of the students from the high school.

"We think that Columbus Day is an appropriate time for Daly City to come together in a party honoring all of the groups who make up our community," commented Ed Eastman, chairman of CITY.

According to Eastman, one of the reasons for the Feast of All Nations is to raise scholarship money for the Jefferson High School Human Relations Committee. Half of all funds collected will be given to the committee to award as a scholarship to a graduating senior in June.

Any groups or individuals interested in taking part in the feast should contact Ed Eastman.

ACCEPTING reservations for Italian Catholic Federation's forty-fourth anniversary dinner dance on October 11 are Mrs. Mario Mazzanti and Mrs. Frank Feno. The celebration will begin with a no-host cocktail hour at 6 p.m. at the All Souls Catholic Church cafeteria, 479 Miller Avenue, South San Francisco. A roast beef dinner and dancing will complete the evening. (Post Photo)

Widget Meet For Parents Is Thursday

The San Mateo County YWCA Widget World Nursery School Parent's Association will hold its first meeting of the school year Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Meetings are held at the Westlake Lutheran Church, Avalon and Westmont, Daly City. Parents of all enrolled children are automatically members of the association and are encouraged to attend the monthly meetings.

Since classes have been in session only two weeks, the main topic of the meeting will be the problems encountered by parents and teachers so far, along with a generous question and answer period moderated by the nursery director, Mrs. Joyce Call. Also on the agenda will be the election of the Parents Association officers for the year, under the direction of interim president Mary Clark.

The first fund-raising event of the year will also be held at the meeting, in the form of a raffle with a variety of prizes available. The fund-raising done by the Parents Association buys the play equipment necessary for the school.

Parents of children enrolled in the program will find the meeting very interesting and informative. This will also be an excellent opportunity for prospective enrollees to learn about the nursery program, to meet the director and see the equipment available.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Good morning, good cooks.

I met a lady recently who was on a diet (aren't we all?) and complaining that it is terribly hard to stay on a diet at this time of the year. Stating that she was receiving dinner invitations and giving dinners frequently now that fall is here. And I realized that that is the case with most of us. During the summer we don't entertain so much with the kids home, vacation trips, daily outings and the lazybones virus that strikes in July. Come autumn and the invitations begin to fly.

An invitation flew from my home recently. When the guests arrived they were served a test menu. Everything I served was a new recipe. I know this is risky business, but my friends are good sports and willing tasters and testers. So we were all involved in a dining experiment. The experiment was a success and the guests asked for the recipes. Rather than send the recipes to just a few friends I'd like to share them with all my friends.

MENU

Continental Chicken, Noodles
Cranberry Salad Mold
Mixed Green Vegetables
Boysenberry Snow Pie

Besides being delicious and having eye appeal, this entree is quite easy to prepare and inexpensive. What more can we ask?

CONTINENTAL CHICKEN

- 4 large chicken breasts, split
- Salt and pepper
- Flour
- Oil
- 1 cup sauterne wine
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can water chestnuts, sliced
- Two-thirds cup silvered pimientos
- Two-thirds cup sliced ripe olives
- Noodles

Remove the skins from the chicken breasts. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Brown in hot oil. Add the cup of sauterne wine and cover tightly. Simmer for 45 minutes. Meantime slice the water chestnuts and add to the undiluted can of mushroom soup along with the two-thirds cup each silvered pimientos and sliced ripe olives. Pour over the chicken and blend into the wine. Cover and heat thoroughly. Taste and add more salt and pepper if needed.

Prepare noodles as directed on package. Drain and place in the center of a large platter. Arrange the chicken breasts around the edge and pour the gravy over the noodles.

This amount serves 8.

This cranberry mold is my version of the wonderful recipe in the cookbook "Someone's in the Kitchen." The original recipe comes from Marge Kelleher. Marge's recipe makes a larger amount than I needed so I adjusted the quantities to my needs.

CRANBERRY SALAD MOLD

- 2 packages raspberry gelatin
- 2 cups hot water
- 1 cup port wine
- 4 slices pineapple, cut up
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 large can whole cranberry sauce

Combine the two packages of gelatin with the two cups hot water. Stir until the gelatin is completely dissolved. Add the cup of port wine, the pineapple, the half cup each chopped nuts and celery and the large can whole cranberry sauce. Place in refrigerator until gelatin begins to thicken. Remove from refrigerator, stir and pour into a large mold. Chill.

The mixed green vegetables consisted of a package of frozen peas, cut green beans and lima beans, and olive oil.

This pie is a beauty. The boysenberries give it color and just the right amount of tartness. It's such a good pie I'd like to give someone credit for it, but I have no idea who created it.

BOYSENBERRY SNOW PIE

- One 9 inch baked pie shell
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Dash of salt
- 1/4 cups milk
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 2 cups boysenberries

Separate the two eggs. Beat the yolks in top of a double boiler, stir in one-fourth of the sugar, salt and one and one-fourth cups milk, sprinkle the package of gelatin on top to soften. Cook the gelatin mixture stirring constantly, over simmering water for 15 minutes or until it thickens slightly and coats a metal spoon. Strain into a large bowl; stir in the tablespoon lemon juice and teaspoon vanilla. Chill, stirring often, just until thick as unbeaten egg white.

Meantime beat the two egg whites until foamy, sprinkle in the remaining sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating until meringue stands in peaks. Whip the cream.

Fold the meringue, then the whipped cream into the thickened gelatin mixture; gently fold in the boysenberries. Spoon into cooled pastry shell, chill several hours or until firm.

NOTE: I used unsweetened frozen boysenberries. You could use fresh strawberries if you prefer, or any fresh berry.

Clothes Closet Project Gets Substantial Boost

The Clothes Closet project of the South San Francisco Women's Club has received a truck load of clothing from the plant department of the Pacific Telephone Company in South San Francisco.

Mrs. Fred Ingle, chairman, has acknowledged the work of M. J. Nardi and H. R. Panatini who spearheaded the drive. The Clothes Closet which furnishes clothing and shoes for needy children will reopen its doors at the end of this month.

Mrs. Carmelo Imprescia, veterans aid chairman, reports that several gold stars have been given to members for their work during the summer months. Baked goods have been sent to the USO Lounge at the airport by Mesdames Bart Guarisco, Julia Custer, Eva Peltier, Norman Hyndling, Edward Erdman and Gilbert Lazzari.

Mrs. James Howard donated 10 yards of material to be used in making ditty bags for the Veterans' Hospital, and Mrs. Imprescia is arranging a trip to the USO Lounge at the airport for members sometime in the future.

FRONTIER DAYS — One of features for the Lomita Park P-TA Carnival "Frontier Days," will be Indian teepees, where Indian headaddresses may be purchased. Event, October 4 (10 a.m. to 5 p.m.) at Lomita Park school grounds, San Bruno, will have pony rides, gold nuggets, Indian cakes and other Indian items for sale. Left to right in a tom-tom mood, are, standing Mrs. Alberta McCrory, Gina Zahursky and Mrs. Virgie Zahursky; on grass, Doug Wolfe and Mike Lengenfelder.

Jurist to Speak At Bryant Dinner

San Francisco's Judge Joseph Kennedy will be the principal speaker at the October 4 testimonial banquet for the Rev. Howard Bryant, retiring head of the Daly City Information and Referral Center.

"We are extremely lucky that Judge Kennedy will be with us," said Gloria Bourkes, the principal organizer of the event. "The Judge and Reverend Bryant have known one another for several years and worked together on several projects. He is delighted to be able to appear."

Ticket sales at $3 per ticket have been brisk. Initial expectations were for sales of 300 tickets and thus far over 200 have been sold with the greatest surge to come in the final week. The banquet is slated for the Daly City War Memorial at 7:30 on October 4.

A committee of over 30 citizens is working on a testimonial to Rev. Bryant, who has been identified with Daly City for the past five years. He has been the only director of the three year old Information and Referral Center which was created as a part of the San Mateo County Human Resources Commission's War on Poverty in the county.

Reverend Bryant, pastor of Daly City's Second Baptist Church, is leaving his information center post to attend the San Francisco Theological Seminary as a scholarship student. He will remain active with his own church while he completes his studies.

JEFF BOOSTER CLUB MEETING

The newly formed Jefferson High School "Booster Club" will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Daly City school's cafeteria.

Parents and friends of the school are welcomed, school officials said.

The principal, Dr. Robert Bush, and his faculty will be present.

Women Voters' League to Meet At DC Church

The League of Women Voters of North San Mateo County will meet October 7 at Seacleft United Methodist Church, 50 Northridge Drive, Daly City.

There will be a Continental breakfast at 9:30, and the meeting will begin promptly at 10.

The topic of discussion will be "Aid to Less Developed Countries." Mrs. Robert Young, chairwoman of the foreign aid and trade study, promised "a most interesting and informative morning."

Visitors are welcome. Transportation and baby-sitting are available.

Bodee Cominoli Returns To The Pioneer Hotel

Bodee Cominoli, the gracious lady who pioneered the Pioneer hotel in Woodside into a thriving restaurant and cocktail lounge, few years ago, has come out of retirement to again operate the Pioneer Hotel. Eliminating the restaurant, Miss Cominoli is concentrating her efforts on the bar and cocktail lounge, featuring pianobar entertainment. Bodee, who is on hand each evening to greet her many friends and new acquaintances, will even reveal her hors d'oeuvres recipes, which each evening features a different country. The Pioneer Hotel Saloon, as this prestige spot is now known, is open from 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. Drop in—it's an ideal place to enjoy some hours. . . . If you're interested in a "man's breakfast," Foster's Coffee Shop features a Steak 'n Eggs special that includes a half pound of top sirloin grilled to your order and served with two large AA grade eggs, along with three buttermilk pancakes, whipped butter and syrup. This also includes coffee. All for just $3.20. . . . Exposition Fish Grotto, owned by Sil Oliva, is now offering the Olympia Oyster Fancy Pepper Pot, which is prepared with catsup, Lea and Perrins sauce and bell peppers.

Norris Palmer, general manager of the Villa Chartier, calls attention to the well-appointed party facilities of this extraordinary San Mateo restaurant which are available for large or small luncheons and dinners of business firms, clubs, societies and celebrations. Call Miss Barbara (341-3456) for reservations and menu details. . . . Good news: Mary Knudsen will reopen her Denmark House tonight. After spending the summer in Lake Tahoe attending to the restaurant duties of her Viking dinner house, Miss Knudsen will again buckle down to serving "home cooking" that has made her Denmark House a Burlingame landmark. . . . Congeniality is a noticeable quality prevailing at Scotty Campbell's restaurant in Redwood City. One of the friendly bartenders in the cozy lounge is Fred Figue (known affectionately to patrons as "the big Alaskan bear") and he is surrounded by such signs as "We do not serve women—you have to bring your own." . . . Rancho Black Rock has one of the most exciting packages in the South Lake Tahoe area. With the purchase of their package, plus the coupon appearing in the Rancho Black Rock advertisement, you get a free room for one night (Sunday through Friday). Saturday, the cost (with the coupon) is $2. Driving to Lake Tahoe? Don't forget to clip the coupon—and leave the "rest" to Rancho Black Rock.

Although well known for his outstanding Swiss delicacies, Wilfried Blarer, master chef and owner of The Matterhorn, is equally famous for his Continental dishes. Make it a point to seek out this Burlingame restaurant for an evening of fine dining. . . . Who says steam is a thing of the past? The counter at Bruno's in San Francisco's Mission is usually crowded with steam buffs watching the white stuff rise from the giant table, the better to keep those famous Bruno dishes piping hot. . . . Reno and Julie Donati of the New Southern restaurant, along with their wives, are planning to attend the liquor convention in Las Vegas during the first week of October. Nick Sbarra, the third partner of this South San Francisco dining spot, will keep the restaurant fires burning. . . . Peter Padany and John Darrimon, owners of Dardany's restaurant in Menlo Park (they also own the Party Givers), wish to remind you that Christmas holiday parties should be planned well in advance. Having a party in your home? The Party Givers Catering service will assist you in choosing the menu. 325-2767 is the number to call for prompt results.

The big sign in front of the South San Francisco Holiday Inn reads, "Welcome Dentists of North America." Fred and Jerry Rapp, proud owners of the Inn, are hosting the Cavalcade of Dental Progress Convention, which means dentists from all over the country are enjoying the plush accommodations of the Inn during the festivities. . . . Romantic-voice Bob Lucas, piano entertainer at the Shit Tail in Palo Alto, has composed and published his fifth song, "Lucas' group," which entertains at the Palo Alto restaurant, was selected to back a sensational young singer, Rich Casabonne, in his first recording. Restaurateur Jim Merrick is booming the lad as the next big singing star. . . . Pizzas come in all shapes and sizes at Romano's Italian restaurant at Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Owner Enrico Romano prides himself on his pizza ingredients and the many steps he takes to insure the very finest quality. . . . Originally, Margie Brandon was hired to play at Baron's Lounge for only 10 days, but ended up charming the patrons so much she stretched the engagement to 10 years. Margie is as much a permanent part of the Powell Street scenery as the Cable Car or Union Square.

Spotted Erroll Garner signing his heart away the other night at Phil Lehr's Steakery in San Francisco. Dinner patrons of Lehr's were happy that they could coax the jazz pianist to sign his autograph between mouthfuls of a "great steak dinner." . . . Tommy Baker, a svelte entertainer of songs from "Way Down in New Orleans" (which is a clue to his theme song), has joined the cast of female impersonators at Finocchio's. This world-famed Broadway club is a "must see" for all tourists when visiting San Francisco. . . . Stickney's, famous for their barbecue sauces, salad dressings and pastries, has a central commissary where they are produced. Commissary Chef is Bill Pickering, who maintains close quality and taste control for the six Stickney's restaurants — from San Mateo to Santa Clara. . . . The Board of Directors of the California Mission Country Visitors Association was one of several groups which held their fall meeting last weekend at the Hilton Inn, San Francisco International Airport. The Hilton Inn, conveniently located at the airport, is a popular meeting place for businessmen and has now introduced a special Day-Hour Rate, enabling businessmen to rent a room just for the hours they'll be using it.

RECORDING ARTISTS—The Los Sandoval's made their return engagement at Luz Garcia's San Francisco Sinaloa Cantina Monday evening, September 29. The group just finished a recording session plus many TV appearances in Mexico and South America.

Doros Named By Holiday Magazine Eight Times

Almost every day Don Dandia is being congratulated by lunchers and diners at Doros for being named by Holiday Magazine for the eighth straight year as a top San Francisco restaurant. Doros is a superb restaurant. Service, decor, food and atmosphere par excellence. . . . A happy victorious crowd gathered at the Leaning Tower in South San Francisco last weekend to celebrate the Giants' victory over the Dodgers. Host Lou Ercoli, being a Giants fan himself, joined the celebration — and a good time was had by all. . . . Whether it's sunny or foggy on the Coast Highway, you will still find hundreds of diners flocking to Frank Torres Beach restaurant in Montara. One of the reasons is the smelt, which is having its finest run in many years. Another reason being the outstanding Peruvian recipes which Frank and Fanny take such pride in presenting. . . . Full course luncheons and dinners are served at Jack Menzie and Chris Vlassis' unique Cathedral Espresso Cafe on Burlingame Avenue, as well as connoisseur wines and exotic coffees and teas. . . . Hal's Whistle Stop in Belmont has introduced a special burger (complete with French fries) for the small fry in the family. Priced at only 49 cents.

Andrew Gruber, real estate broker in the Philippines and a long-time friend of Tommy Harris, visited Tommy when he was in San Francisco recently. Told him he wanted a taste of Tommy's Joynt food, which he sorely missed in Manila. . . . Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant is just one part of a busy two-part enterprise on El Camino Real. Located a few steps north of the restaurant is Vince's Delicatessen and Fish Depot, where everything for the home table is available for your choosing. This has to be one of the best "daily doubles" in town. . . . The 340-room San Francisco Le Baron Hotel, located at San Francisco International Airport, offers convention and meeting facilities for groups up to 2,000. Conference facilities are located on the second floor Convention Level, with convenient access to the dining room and the V.I.P. Lounge, where Rene Paulo and his Quartet head up the entertainment. . . . If you can catch up with Bill Mills (he's the culinary expert of the Shadows of San Mateo) between his banquet and outdoor catering commitments, you're a better "soul" than your Bright Lighter pretends to be. . . . Executive secretary and business manager for the beautiful Dell'Ossos restaurant is Nancy Biancalana, native San Franciscan and now a resident of Millbrae, who also has charge of reservations and banquet arrangements.

Nick Gust's new Papagayo Room in Rockaway Beach is shaping up in true Mexican style, and it won't be long before its managing-host, Al Williams, who has made several trips to Mexico to acquire many of the restaurant's interior accents, will announce the opening date. Meanwhile, Nick's Seashore restaurant, which bustles seven days a week with breakfast, luncheon, dinner and banquet activities, and The Moonraker, a charming nautical restaurant highlighting Continental cuisine, continue to carry on the Gust tradition of catering to the dine out public. . . . Vern Coenenberg, ramrod of the Black Angus spread, is back in the saddle again, after debating which way he could best serve the patrons of his Chuck Wagon. He has decided to discontinue luncheon and concentrate on serving quality and quantity on the "All you can eat" dinner spread. . . . Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina district was the meeting place for a dinner, hosted by prominent San Francisco dentist, Dr. Sam Bledon, for 28 dentists. Lehr's private Executive Room served as dining room and for the presentation of a film on new dental techniques demonstrated by Bledon.

Unusual Film

To Be Viewed

By S.S.F. Women

An unusual film, "Why Man Creates," will be the nucleus of the St. Veronica's Women's Club meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria at 434 Alida Way, South San Francisco.

This film has been called "a visual poem" and highlights the uniqueness of each individual and also demonstrates that every person has something to offer to humanity.

It is a Saul Bellow Production, produced by Kaiser Aluminum, and has won several awards in the past.

Voters' League Presents Booklets

The League of Women Voters of North San Mateo County have released a 49-page booklet entitled "Your City and Ours."

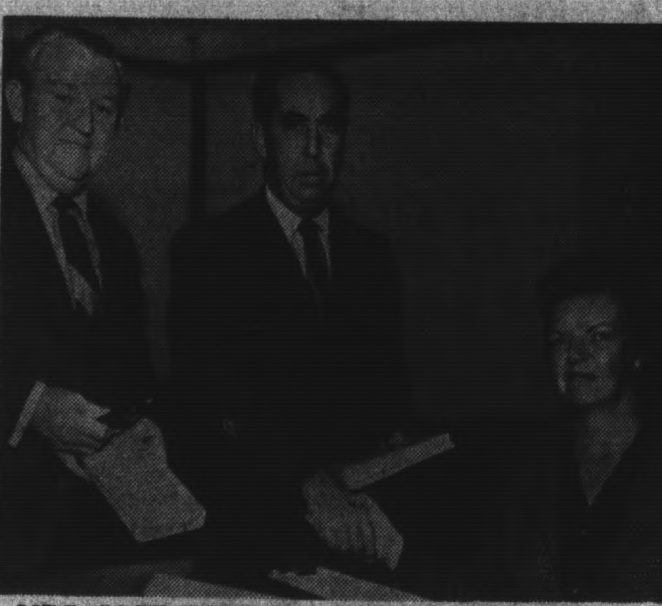

The booklet is an outline of local government in the North County area and recently was distributed by North County League members to city officials. The booklet also is available for purchase at 35 cents a copy, by contacting League members.

In a letter to San Bruno councilmen, Mrs. Walter Rathbun, the North County League vice president, said the booklet is designed to give an outline of local government "so that interested residents may also be informed voters" on local government level.

Most of the members of the league in North County live in Daly City, Pacifica, San Bruno, and South San Francisco. Therefore the information gathered about these cities is more detailed than the smaller cities of Brisbane and Colma.

The booklet contents include a history of North County, city government in California, information on the cities mentioned.

MRS. JACK HART presents "Your City and Ours" booklet to Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett and Councilman Frank Pacelli say, "Thanks." (Post Photo)

Westmoor Fabrics Talks

An African print, bright orange "ribless" iorduroy, lavender blue "Amara Wool" and tie-dye fabrics were all included in the fall fabric demonstration-lecture given to Westmoor clothing classes last Thursday.

The girls listened to an explanation of the importance of lining to keep garments from stretching, as well as the variety of polyesters and their company "brand names." The new emphasis on pantsuits and scarfs was emphasized by a Daly City firm's representative.

Stealing the show were the fall-colored fabrics in which bright orange and purple predominated.

Fish and Chip Popularity Grew In Eighteenth Century

Fish and chips now rival roast beef and Yorkshire pudding as the favorite food of Great Britain.

Just as the Beatles and Tom Jones and Canby Street have become a part of the younger set in dress and style of singing, we have quickly taken to Britain's fish and chips.

Not only are food manufacturers producing their quick versions of fish and chips, but now we are seeing quick carry-outs pushing their version of the delicious combination.

The story goes that fish and chips were introduced by the French in the early 1800's by street vendors who sold chips.

"Chippers" the shops selling only the square-cut strips of fried potatoes that are known as French fries, popped up in the North of England at the time when Londoners could buy only baked potatoes. By the 19th century every village and town around London had its own "chipper". The fish companion was sold by 1840 by hundreds of vendors for a penny a piece.

The traditional condiments for fish and chips are salt and vinegar, and preferably malt vinegar made from beer hops. As traditional as the vinegar and salt is the neat conical wrapping of newspaper.

Although there has been considerable question as to the cleanliness of newspaper, Englishmen still prefer their fish and chips lunch or dinner in newspaper. They feel it absorbs the excess vinegar and fat; it retains the heat better than anything; and it provides a natural napkin. It also gives them good reading material as they walk home picking the fish and chips with their fingers.

Even today in London, fish and chips suppers are considered the "in" form of entertaining. A fish and chips late supper after the theater or after a football game is a new and unique idea. It's easy too.

Fish and chips can be made from scratch using fatter French fried fish fillets and toasted warm thick potato chips. A simpler version, especially good for the young set, might be the commercially made fish sticks fried and served with heated heavy dip-type potato chips. Be sure to serve in conical newspaper.

For either the quick version or the made-from-scratch, shakers of salt and vinegar are necessary.

For each serving large cones of newspaper can be made days ahead, then inside slide a smaller cone of waxpaper for extra protection.

Decorations for "Fish and Chips" party might be travel posters of Great Britain, red, white and blue table linens and several Union Jack flags serving as centerpiece, and lots of Canby Street music.

FISH AND CHIPS
1 pound or 4 fish fillets (use sole or flounder)
flour
salt and pepper

BATTER
¾ cup all purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten
¾ cup milk

First cut the fish into 3 or 4 pieces and pat dry with towel. Dust each piece with flour.

Fried Fish Only Good As Coating

Fried fish is only as good as its coating. If breaded before it is fried. There are many bases for coating — flour, corn meal, bread crumbs and potato chip crumbs. Since the chips are already brown then we suggest you use thin fillets so extra long frying will not be necessary.

If frying is out for diet or health reasons, then just pop the coated fish fillets in a low-sided casserole or baking dish and bake in a pre-heated 375-degree oven for about 25 minutes or until fish flakes when tested with a fork.

Try the idea of coating with potato chip crumbs when frying other dishes. It's good with chicken and egg plant, too.

COUNTRY FRIED FISH FILLETS

2 eggs
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon seafood seasonings
1½ pounds fish fillets (flounder, pike, or any other thin mild fish)

2½ cups potato chip crumbs
¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup vegetable shortening
Parsley flakes

Beat together eggs, mustard, and seafood seasoning. Dip fish in the mustard-egg mixture, then roll in potato chip crumbs. Combine salad oil and vegetable shortening in skillet and melt together. Heat the two until you can see them get hot enough.

and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Prepare batter by combining flour and salt in a bowl. Make a well in the center of bowl and add well beaten egg and ¼ cup milk. Stir the mixture until smooth, then add the remaining ¾ cup milk plus a tablespoon of water. Stir until smooth. Dip fish pieces into batter and fry in deep fat (365 degrees) until golden and crisp. Drain on paper toweling.

QUICK CHIPS

In a large piece of aluminum foil place a 12 or 16-ounce bag of the heavy "dip-type" potato chips. If foil isn't big enough then secure two pieces together. Put in a preheated 300-degree oven and bake for 15 to 20 minutes to heat thoroughly.

Serve the hot fish and heated chips together putting the fish in the bottom in the cone-shaped newspaper. Serve immediately.

Sandwich of Convenience

Here's a sandwich you can have almost any time if the convenience shelf holds cans of deviled ham and the refrigerator furnishes English muffins, cream cheese and mayonnaise.

Split English muffins, then toast. Top with cream cheese (three ounces) mixed with one-fourth cup each of finely chopped onion and green stuffed olives, then spread with deviled ham. Top each with a slice of tomato. Spread lightly with mayonnaise and broil for a few minutes until heated through.

Diet Muffins From Oven

State-of-Mainers look back in longing at their grandmother's golden Gems, fresh from the oven, bursting with summer fruit. "Gems" is the old-fashioned name for muffins. They are still prepared in Down East kitchens, and served for breakfast and lunch. Any leftover muffins are toasted and served for dessert with ice cream or fruit topping.

Perfect muffins, tender and slightly pebbled within, rounded on top, are among the easiest hot breads to prepare. They can be mixed in minutes — in fact, one of the secrets of success is a minimum of mixing. Stir only enough to moisten the dry ingredients; the batter should be lumpy, not smooth.

To New Englanders, breakfast isn't breakfast without a hot bread. But weight-watchers need not feel deprived of these pleasures of the table. It is possible to cut calories to half using new diet margarine as an ingredient and a spread.

These lower calorie muffins spread with a half tablespoon of diet margarine contain only 140 calories, about the same as an ordinary muffin without spread.

STATE-OF-MAINE

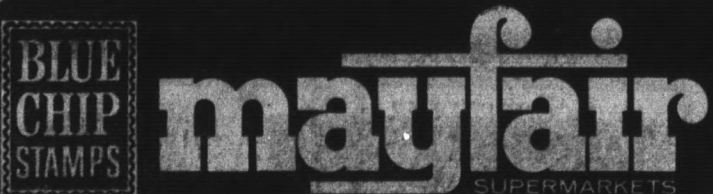

Check Your Technique

It's not difficult to braise meat or to "prepare a pot-roast."

Important steps include browning the meat thoroughly so it remains brown while cooking in moisture. Avoid using too much liquid. One-fourth to one-half cup is usually the rule. Then, make sure there's a tight cover as well as low temperature for the whole cooking time.

Fill greased muffin cups two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Carefully remove from muffin cups and serve warm. Makes 12 muffins.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS
2 cups unsifted flour
¾ cup granulated sugar substitute
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon baking powder
¼ cup diet margarine
1 cup skim milk
1 egg
1 cup blueberries, drained
Combine flour, sugar substitute, baking powder and salt. Cut in diet margarine until well blended. Beat milk and egg together. Add to flour mixture along with blueberries; stir quickly only until dry ingredients are moistened.

No Need to Sacrifice Appetite Appeal In Hurry-Up Meal

There's no need to sacrifice flavor or appetite appeal when you have to prepare a meal in a hurry. Fix California Beefburgers on toasty, buttered French bread, and a crisp green salad, made with everyone's favorite, western iceberg lettuce. There's no easier meal to fix nor any more popular with adults and youngsters alike.

For fun, and a new flavor experience, brush the beef patties lightly with Kikkoman soy sauce before and during cooking. For more than three centuries Kikkoman has been used in the Orient to enhance flavor in foods. It is becoming increasingly popular in the United States as a marinade and to perk up gravies, soups, stews and salad dressings.

Something special happens, too, to a crisp western iceberg lettuce salad when creamy crescents of California avocado and red onion rings are added and all tossed with a basic oil and vinegar dressing. There's magic in the combination of tastes and textures that will surely make "Avocado Iceberg Tossed Salad" a family favorite.

For dessert serve cookies and ice cream sundaes with canned fruit cocktail topping. If there's a budding cook in the family, let him or her prepare this meal. It couldn't be easier and it's sure to bring compliments.

AVOCADO ICEBERG TOSSED SALAD
1 head western iceberg lettuce
½ cup corn oil
1 clove garlic, peeled tablespoons wine vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Freshly ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon aromatic bitters
1 red onion, sliced

1 California avocado
Core lettuce: rinse in cold water; drain well. Chill in disposable plastic bag or plastic crisper. Combine oil, garlic, vinegar, salt, pepper, paprika and bitters; let stand 1 hour. Discard garlic. Reserving outer lettuce leaves to line bowl, tear remainder into bite-sized pieces. Peel and slice onion; break into rings over top. Peel and remove seed from avocado; slice in crescents. Stir dressing; pour over salad and toss lightly to coat well.
Makes 4 servings.

Here's a salad to add to your list of time-honored, sure-to-please recipes. It knows no season for the main ingredients, cucumbers and western iceberg lettuce, are available every month of the year. The western growers who supply this nation with more than 60 percent of all fresh fruits and vegetables tell us that both lettuce and cucumbers will keep for several days to a week if properly cared for. Each prefers moist surroundings and cool temperatures, so be sure to refrigerate immediately when you get them home from the market. For cracking-crisp salads, rinse lettuce in cold water to restore moisture lost in transit, allow it to drain thoroughly, and then tuck into a disposable plastic bag or special plastic crisper with tightly-closed lid. "Marinated Cucumber and Lettuce Salad" is a spicy combination and excellent served with fish, seafood, cold cuts of meat, egg dishes, barbecued meat, venison.

MARINATED CUCUMBER AND LETTUCE SALAD
1 head western iceberg lettuce
1-3 cup water

1 teaspoon mixed pickling spices
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1-3 cup cider vinegar
¼ cup corn oil
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
2½ cups thinly sliced cucumbers (about 2 large cucumbers)
6 radish roses
Core lettuce: rinse in cold water; drain well. Chill in a plastic bag or plastic crisper. Combine water, pickling spices, sugar, salt, pepper and vinegar; bring to a boil and simmer 2 minutes.

Strain and cool. Stir in oil and parsley; pour over cucumbers. Chill 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Tear lettuce into bite-size pieces. Add to cucumbers; toss lightly and garnish with radishes.
Makes 6 servings.

"Iceberg Fondue" is a fun salad — one that appeals to the young set. It's a play on the currently popular fondue idea. You can make up a variety of your own dressings besides the first suggested. Serve it as a first course at your next buffet supper.

ICEBERG FONDUE SALAD
1 head western iceberg lettuce
Creamy Blue Cheese Dressing
Vinaigrette Dressing
Mustard-Herb Dressing
Core and rinse lettuce; drain thoroughly. Refrigerate in plastic crisper or disposable plastic bag. When ready to serve, cut into bite-size wedges. Pile lettuce wedges on 6 to 8 individual large chilled salad plates. Surround with small containers of each dressing.
Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Creamy Blue Cheese Dressing: Blend 1 cup real mayonnaise with 2 tablespoons crumbled blue cheese and 1 tablespoon each finely chopped parsley and white dinner wine.

Vinaigrette Dressing: Use 1 cup bottled vinaigrette dressing adding 1 teaspoon freeze-dried chives, 2 teaspoons crumbled bacon bits and 1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento.

Mustard-Herb Dressing: Blend 1 cup real mayonnaise with ¼ cup yogurt, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, ¼ teaspoon crumbled dried herbs of your choice.

Try Stuffed Mushroom Caps, Hot

Fresh whole mushrooms just seem a natural when thinking of ideas for appetizers. Each one can count as a serving, whether they be served chilled and marinated, or hot and stuffed like this quick party cocktail suggestion.

Cultured mushrooms need nothing more than several doublings in water and, in the case of this recipe, stems removed and fill with a tasty chip and dip stuffing. What could be quicker for a hot appetizer? Serve with picks.

Stuffed Mushroom Caps
24 fresh whole mushrooms
Melted butter
1 package toasted onion dip or seasoning mix
2 cups potato chip crumbs
3 tablespoons sherry
Wash and drain the mushrooms. Remove the stems, leaving a hollow in the cap which can be stuffed. Reserve stems. Dip the caps in melted butter, using a fork for dipping. This is not necessary since there is sufficient oil in chip crumbs to eliminate the need for other shortening. Place caps on a cookie sheet and make filling. Cut the stems into small pieces and saute in melted butter until tender but not brown. Add the dip or seasoning mix and potato chip crumbs. Toss lightly until well mixed and moisten with the sherry to hold together. Spoon the filling into each mushroom cap and bake in a preheated 425-degree oven for 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Cooking Has A Newcomer

It was in the West that cooking meat in the bag became popular. Now it is common to see turkey, roasts, even fruit pies baked in a grocery brown paper bag. It saves on cleaning the oven too. No mess. No splashing.

In-the-bag cooking is adding a newcomer — that's steak. This is a recipe Dad would be proud to tackle, and one that he can boost he has perfected.

Crispy Steak In A Bag
1 sirloin steak, 2½ inches thick
Monosodium glutamate
1 clove garlic, chopped very fine
3 tablespoons butter
Fresh chopped parsley
1 teaspoon lemon-pepper
1 cup potato chip crumbs
Wipe the steak dry with a paper towel. Sprinkle with monosodium glutamate. Make a paste of chopped garlic and butter, and parsley. Spread over steak on both sides. Sprinkle both sides with lemon-pepper. Then firmly press potato chip crumbs on both sides of the steak. Place steak in a clean brown bag and close with a metal skewer or staple. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven for about 45 minutes for rare. Makes 4 servings.

Lost Shoe Is Driver's Downfall In South S.F.

A lost shoe became Mario Hector Rodriguez' downfall early on Friday when South San Francisco police arrested him on charges of reckless driving and driving under the influence of alcohol.

Rodriguez, 24, of 843 Hemlock Avenue, South San Francisco, according to police, led officers Ronald Barranti and Gary Thornton on a 115-mile-per-hour chase through city streets before being apprehended.

Police said the officers noticed a car run a red light. They pursued the auto, which immediately attempted to outrun the police car.

"It roared through the residential area east of Commercial Avenue, hitting speeds of 115 m.p.h.," said the report.

At Commercial and Linden Avenue, the driver lost control of the vehicle, slid into a light pole and traffic post next to three new cars at an auto display area.

Officers said the driver got out of the car, fell to the pavement, lost a shoe, then got up and began to run. The police fired a warning shot over the suspect's head in the chase, but lost him in the residential area.

An all-out search of the area, aided by fellow officers, revealed someone walking half a block from the scene — one shoe on and one shoe off.

The shoe left at the scene of the accident, matched the one the man was wearing.

While the chase was taking place, the auto that sheared a light pole, also caused a fire to start on the car's front tire.

South San Francisco firemen controlled the blaze until a PG&E crew could respond to shut off the power in the area.

The driver of the chase vehicle received only minor bruises and a small cut on his forehead in the incident.

Police Arrest 3 Juveniles

San Bruno police, acting in conjunction with Broadmoor police Wednesday night, nabbed three juveniles for allegedly stealing $1,000 in firearms and jewelry from a San Bruno man's home earlier this week.

Police said that Broadmoor Police Chief Raymond Savage stopped a car driven by a youth Wednesday evening and observed some rifles in the car.

As a result of information Chief Savage obtained, San Bruno police were able to make two other arrests, and recover all the stolen property.

Busy Bruno Board Meet

When the San Bruno city council session began last Monday there were 14 persons in the audience.

This number was matched by city personnel, including the councilmen, and excluding the press.

However, the audience participation swelled to 17—before the session was over.

One young man left early after addressing the councilmen on the subject of preservation of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

The councilmen had earlier received and filed a communication from the Marin County Board of Supervisors. The communication asked the councilmen to join in urging the President of the United States to press for immediate acquisition of the remaining lands necessary for the national seashore.

"I would like you to write a letter to the President," said the youth. "It doesn't take much time, and it might do some good to hear from a city council."

The youth left immediately after Councilman Karney Barbarian informed him that the councilmen felt appropriate action was already being taken, "from the state governor on up."

"I'm really not mad," said the youth, as he nodded his head and flew out the door. "I just have to make the scene somewhere else."

The people who didn't make the council session missed some other action when the councilmen:

Were invited to attend the October 4 dedication of San Mateo County San Carlos Airport and FAA control tower.

Recommended sending a letter to Donald Dutil, president of the Parkway Terrace Homeowners Association, saying that the city is not contemplating in the near future the conversion from incandescent to mercury vapor lighting in the Parkway Terrace area.

Accepted a letter from Mrs. Ann Buzzell, 757 Acacia Avenue, in which she indicated support of retaining only one cab company in the city; that operated by Joseph Gillo.

Received a letter from Joan Himman, of 317 Acacia Avenue, a junior at Capuchino High School, in which she gave her reasons why she wanted to be Capuchino's representative on the city's recreation commission.

Filed a letter from Donald Lee Gohranson, 1681 Santa Lucia Avenue, in which he clarified what he considered a misunderstanding between himself and the police department over the reporting of an automobile accident in front of his home.

Abided by the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce that the proposal for a 30-day trial period of employee parking in downtown lots be dropped.

Set October 8 as the date of a joint meeting between the councilmen, recreation and park commissioners and representatives of the police department.

Were told the personnel Board had submitted a list of candidates passing the exam to fill the position of police captain. The position was vacated by the resignation of Earl Doris. The council will announce the appointment at their next meeting.

Suggested youngsters at the teen center work on landscaping and interior decoration rather than helping with painting because of possible labor complaints.

Adopted resolutions that would authorize: participation in the county-wide cooperative library system, installation of a tank line; relocation of an outfall sewer; supplying a traffic signal controller; renovation of the teen center; intention of city to acquire certain surplus state property in the Crestmoor Park area.

Proclaimed White Cane Days in San Bruno from September 29 through October 4.

Walgreens' Grand Opening in Millbrae

THIS IS EXTERIOR view of newly expanded and renovated Walgreens store at Millbrae Square. At an estimated cost of $200,000, the Millbrae unit has grown from 16,000 square feet to its new size of well over half an acre. First opened in 1964, the store now has been re-designed inside and out and has become one of the largest drug stores Walgreens has built. (Post Photo)

Beauty There, Too!

Super Center At Millbrae Square

Walgreens officially will open one of the largest drug stores it has ever built, with a special ceremony at Millbrae Square's Super Center, today at 10 a.m. "Miss California," Susan Anton, is to join civic officials and dignitaries in ribbon-cutting honors that will touch off a giant, four-day sale and celebration at the super drug store.

MORTON GRAYAM

The Millbrae store was first opened in 1964 and continuing enthusiastic reception from area shoppers encouraged top Walgreens executives to begin a massive renovation and expansion early this summer.

At an estimated cost of $200,000, the Millbrae unit has grown from 16,000 square feet to its present size of well over half an acre.

Both exterior and interior have been thoroughly redesigned, utilizing the latest merchandising innovations and the most modern architectural concepts, according to store manager Morton W. Grayam.

With approximately 27,000 square feet of overall floor area, the new Super Center ranks as one of the nation's largest and most complete drug stores. A "one-stop" shopping center, it offers a huge variety of health, beauty, household and recreational bargains in over 50 separate and distinct departments.

Impressive in its design, the massive Prescription Pharmacy — stocking over 5,000 pharmaceuticals — reflects the importance Walgreens traditionally places on its pharmacy services. Walgreens' registered pharmacists not only provide prompt efficient service on prescriptions, but they are also readily available for information on the many drugs and vitamins displayed nearby.

SUSAN ANTON, the reigning "Miss California" of 1969-70, will be on hand in Millbrae's new Super Center today through Saturday, during store's giant Grand Opening celebration and sale. Miss Anton will pose for photos with shoppers in the Millbrae Square Walgreens Camera Department.

"We call attention to our economical prescriptions," added Manager Grayam. "We pare our prices here, too, for the greatest possible savings for our customers. It's a Walgreen tradition we're proud to maintain."

Name it, and you'll probably find it at Walgreens' new Super Center. Everything from aspirin to television sets is offered in the half-acre of merchandise displays, all within easy sight and reach.

Browse through such bargain-packed departments as drugs, cosmetics, the unique candy department, tobacco and smoking accessories, electrical appliances, radios and television sets, guitars, power tools, paints, home furnishings, lamps, baby needs, luggage, auto accessories, gifts, garden needs, toys, photographic needs, and you've only scratched the surface.

M.W. Grayam Is Manager Of the Store

Morton W. Grayam has been chosen to extend his tenure as manager of the "new" Walgreen Super Center.

After two years of Walgreen experience in the Midwest, he joined the California business community in 1961 as a member of a Walgreen staff in San Francisco. He was promoted to manager of his firm's Alameda unit in 1961.

Three years later, he came to Millbrae to head the company's drug store on Broadway. Now that the Millbrae Square Walgreens has been expanded and converted to a Super Center, Grayam is confident that he and his staff will be more able than ever to provide his many friends and neighbors the efficient and economical service for which his store is noted.

LOCAL PEOPLE ARE EMPLOYED

The staff of Walgreens' "new" Super Center in Millbrae Square is comprised almost entirely of local people. "We're out to give shoppers the best of services, so we wanted the best in personnel. We felt the best place to find them was right in the area. After all, who can serve customers better than their own friends and neighbors," said store Mgr. Morton W. Grayam.

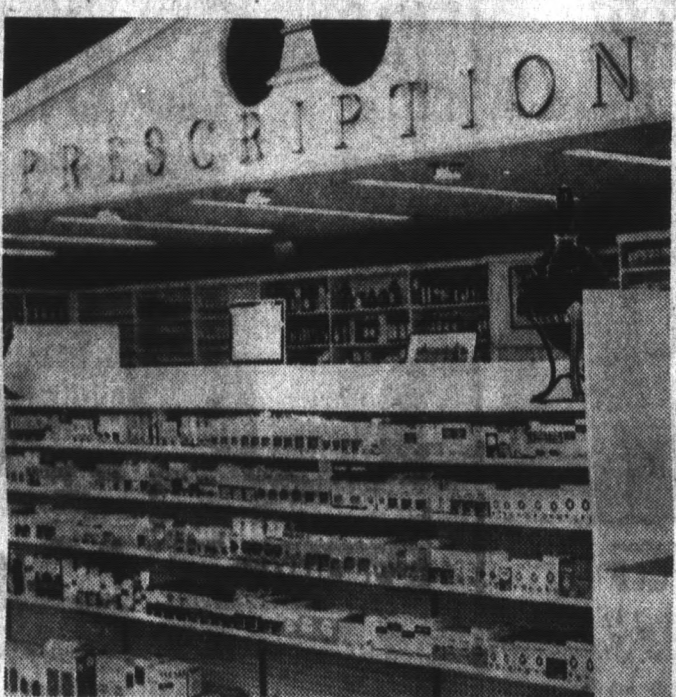

Executives Say Objective Is to Serve

"We welcome shoppers to our new Super Center in Millbrae Square Shopping Center," said C. R. Walgreen, Jr., board chairman, and A. A. Borg, president.

"This Super Center" explained Walgreen, "represents extensive research by our store designers and merchandising experts to provide the maximum in pleasant, interesting shopping."

Borg added, "Our firm continually strives to form the vanguard of the very latest achievements in retail merchandising techniques. Our primary objective is always to serve the contemporary shopper in the most efficient, economical manner."

In another vein, Walgreen noted, "In expanding our commitment to this area, we're most anxious to participate in the dynamic and aggressive business community here, and to give customers the best drug store service possible."

THE HEART — The Prescription Department in Walgreen's "new" Super Center in Millbrae Square is the heart of the store. The expansiveness and modern facilities underline the store's continuing slogan: "Your prescription is our most important responsibility."

Economy Priced

5,000 Drug Items

The Walgreen Prescription Department stocks over 5,000 different pharmaceuticals, an increase in number of prescriptions being brought to the firm's stores each year.

Just last year, Walgreens passed the "200 million prescriptions-filled mark," and is continuing to fill an excess of 20 million per year — far outdistancing any other retail drug firm.

What accounts for this significant growth? "We think the most important element is the human one," says Manager Grayam. "Our pharmacists have taken to heart the Walgreen motto, 'Your prescription is our most important responsibility.'"

"Because we price prescriptions with economy in mind," said Grayam, "customers' savings are surprising, even on a single prescription. And when it comes to medication taken regularly, these savings really mount up."

"We invite you to bring in your prescriptions for pricing and filling," he said. "We're sure you'll be happy with our friendly service and your savings. It's all in line with the Walgreen tradition of serving community health needs at the minimum consumer cost."

This is just one of the many ways in which the Registered Pharmacists in Walgreens' new Super Center have dedicated themselves to their customers' well-being. Add to this, prompt service, unfailing courtesy, dependability, and exacting care, and you have the reason why Walgreens has become the "Number One Pharmacist to the Nation."

Reflecting this strong vote of confidence in Walgreens' professional service is the impressive

NEW AREAS

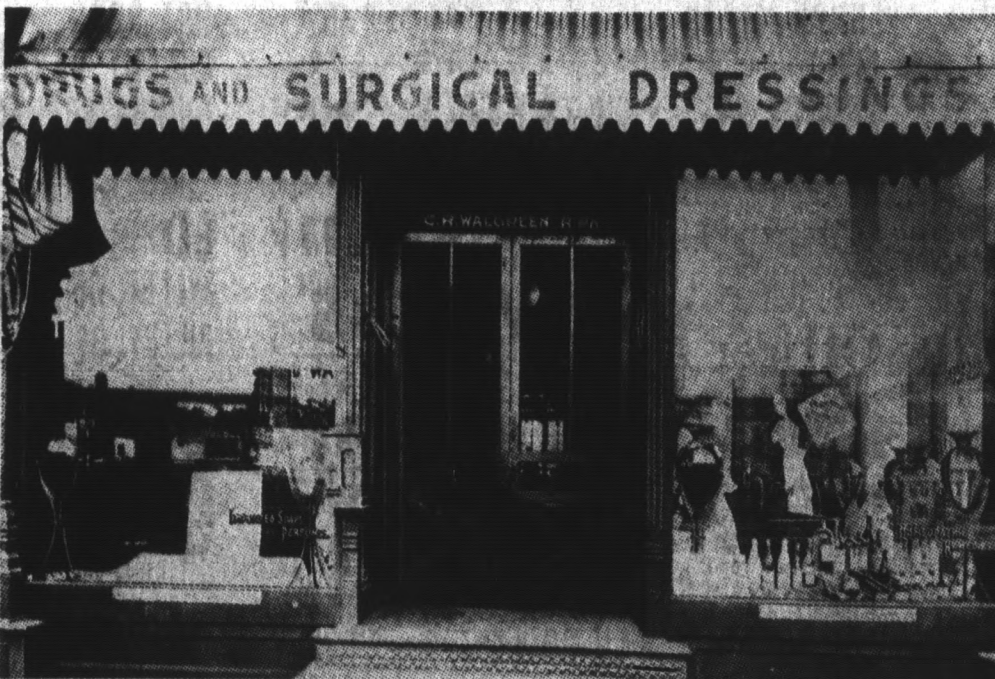

Enjoyment and savings are assured for shoppers at the Walgreen Super Center in Millbrae, because a host of unique, new departments have been added.

Cosmetics

BEAUTY CENTER — The cosmetics department at Walgreens offers milady everything in beauty aids from all the famed houses of beauty. In addition, trained beauty consultants will be on hand to help in making selections. Along with over 5,000 different cosmetics in Walgreens' attractive Beauty Center, ladies will also find expert beauty consultants ready to give friendly counsel on make-up and complexion-care questions at a personalized service counter.

WHERE IT ALL BEGAN — This is Walgreens' first drug store which was founded in Chicago in 1901.

From Farm to Pharmacy

'Revolutionary' Walgreen Ideas

There is a story — which starts with the late C. R. Walgreen, Sr., R.Ph., founder of the firm bearing his name — behind Walgreen's beautiful "NEW" Super Center in Millbrae. The first Charles Walgreen was born on a farm in 1873.

Later as a young registered pharmacist, he opened a small neighborhood drug store in Chicago in 1901.

When he first cranked down its awning, the store's aromatic interior held the seeds of some exciting changes in drugstore retailing. For it gave the owner a chance to put into action some of his own revolutionary ideas in improving drugstore service.

Shoppers liked his courtesy, his imaginative merchandising, and soon the young pharmacist opened another drugstore — then more . . . and more.

Today, Charles R. Walgreen, Jr., a registered pharmacist pioneering as such drugstore greens' Super Center in Millbrae, "first" as mass merchandising brae.

The firm also took the lead in the development of self-service drugstores in the late '40s.

Now in his 43rd year with the firm, he has gained wide on-the-job experience in practically every phase of his business.

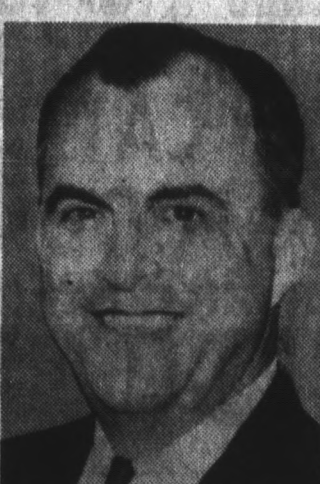

Elected president in 1939, he became chairman of the board in 1963.

Under his direction, Walgreens has expanded to over 570 stores throughout the United States, including Puerto Rico.

Walgreens now ranks as "The Nation's Name for Drugstores" with more shoppers coming through its doors than any other drugstores in the world.

Why? Through the years it has set records in new retailing techniques.

Attesting to its bold spirit of

JAMES R. SAUNDERS, district manager of 15 Walgreen Stores, including the "new" Millbrae Super Center, says "quality is our pledge," reminding that "volume buying enables us to offer low discount prices every day . . . but customer satisfaction and good will are always the most important consideration to us, therefore, we can't afford to carry inferior merchandise. You can bet we're proud of what we sell."

Award Won

Committee on Aging In the Works

Stung by the criticism of a group of Daly City senior citizens that appeared before them previously, the County Board of Supervisors last Tuesday gave tentative approval to the formation of a San Mateo County Commission on Aging.

"We react to youth because of their demonstrations and riots," Chairman Robert St. Clair said, "but we fail to respond to the older citizens and their problems."

St. Clair suggested that a 13-member county-wide commission be established, to be advisory to the board in much the same way as the county Youth Commission.

County Manager M. D. Tarshes was asked to propose a method of implementing the commission.

St. Clair suggested that the commission have the responsibility to study all aspects of the needs and problems of and opportunities for senior citizens and advise the board on action needed. Other duties would be to: conduct public hearings on all matters concerning the well-being of older persons; provide consultation to local community programs; act as an information center and clearing house for materials and data on aging; co-operate with other county agencies and political jurisdictions for more effective programs for the aged; provide state conferences, meetings and training programs; and, stimulate and programming of late effective use of existing resources and services.

The delegation that appeared to assist with community and before the board last week, property taxes.

headed by Julius Castelan, scolded the board for a seeming lack of attention to the problems of the aged, particularly with regard to housing and property taxes.

Utility Fund Issue Appears Settled By Supervisors

An issue that touched off an exchange of sharp words between Mayor Bernard Lyett of Daly City and County Supervisor Jean Fassler may have been settled.

At the urging of Mrs. Fassler, the Board of Supervisors approved an allocation of $40,000 as the county's share of under-grounding utility wires in the San Pedro Road-Market Street improvement project.

Mrs. Fassler called the under-grounding "very important and very necessary" and added that she was willing to make the motion to contribute the $40,000 despite the unwarranted criticism of the Daly City mayor.

Lyett got Mrs. Fassler riled up when he accused her of slighting the Daly City project in favor of putting all of the county's undergirding money into the Alameda de las Pulgas project near Menlo Park.

Report Asked On Cable TV Installation

Following the concern expressed previously by the Redwood City city council, the San Carlos city council has directed City Administrator C. R. Allen to investigate and give a report on the status of cable antenna television installation in the city.

The same firm, Peninsula Cable Television Corporation, holds CATV contracts for both communities.

In Redwood City, the city manager, Howard Ullrich, reported last night that he had been assured by the firm that the installation will be completed by the December 17 deadline. He was asked to make a report last week after council members expressed some concern about progress of the installation.

In San Carlos, Mayor Thomas Jenkins opined that installation is behind schedule. He further contended that the firm is not offering a promised service, FM radio reception.

Allen challenged that statement, stating that he is being provided FM reception at his home.

"You'd better check Bob," the mayor stated, "maybe you're getting a snow job from a repairman."

In any event, Allen said he would have a report on the CATV matter at the next council meeting.

'Hits Officer,' She's Jailed

A 36-year-old Daly City woman was arrested on Thursday at Bay Meadows Race Track in San Mateo after she had reportedly struck a police officer during an argument.

Police said that Gertrude L. Mudrick, 78 Seaciff Drive, was involved in an argument with a teller at about 4 p.m. when police were called to the scene.

Lt. Gordon Hall and Officer Conrad Caines responded to the call and were struck by the woman. Hall parried one blow by the woman and Caines was hit in the head. She was then taken to city jail where she was booked for being drunk and for assault and battery on a police officer.

Burglary In a Church

Evidence that the church isn't considered sacred by everyone was revealed Thursday morning when the pastor of the First Assembly of God Church in South San Francisco reported a $700 burglary.

Pastor Edmon Curtright told police someone pried open the main entrance door, the door to his office where the culprit ransacked the pastor's desk, and then took a safe from the closet of an adjacent office.

Police learned that the safe contained approximately $300 in cash, $300 in checks and the church records.

Deny the Maulings At Jefferson High?

SCHOOL DISTRICT OFFICIALS will probably deny it ever existed, but Daly City police have finally nailed a couple of those teenaged thugs who have been mauling fellow students and stealing their money during school hours up at Jefferson High.

WHAT'S GOING ON? — The system of doling out annual elementary school pictures in Daly City just came to our attention . . . and the picture is out of focus.

With capable photo studios here in the city manned by local taxpayers who spend good money right here (money that goes BACK to the school district in taxes) why in the world are out-of-town carthoppers being given contract after contract to take these photos?

We can't figure it out, but perhaps someone out there in Readerland can supply the answer? Each school P-TA selects what photog will snap the kiddies and sometimes gives the nod to cameramen from as far away as Santa Rosa. They even hesitate to inform the local shuttermen about the matter, according to Our Source. Bad scene!

WOULD YOU BELIEVE that controversial Black Panther Party attorney Charles Garry is an honorary policeman for the city of San Francisco? It's true! Badge number 22, issued sometime ago for his contribution to the department . . . Speaking of Garry, he is now recovering in St. Luke's Hospital following major surgery.

MISSING FROM STORY — That story planted in North County papers by Assemblymen Leo Ryan's South City team concerning his upcoming testimonial did not contain the sought-after name of Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, an outspoken critic of his fellow Democrat. Both councilmen (and demos) Edward J. Dennis and Frank Pacelli reportedly will show for the dinner.

MORE ON POLITICS — Watch for Arlen Gregorio, chairman of the County Democratic Central Committee, to announce soon (if he hasn't already), he will run against Senator Richard Dolwig. Gregoria a San Bruno attorney, hasn't been trying to smother the rumor.

THE SHADOW KNOWS about the Serramonte Shopping Center's ruling not to allow solicitors inside the building — even if they are trying to help the area's blind kids. The ten-member Serramonte Merchants board recently tabled a request made by both Daly City Lions Clubs to sell White Canes inside the center during its drive next week.

The vote was split, with some board members expressing a desire to let the Lions do their thing, but pointing to the shopping center's rules. At least two of the members are Lions themselves. This did little good.

The current policy of the center is to allow solicitors to sit in booths inside the mall twice a year — and it's just unfortunate that the Lions' drive doesn't coincide with the center's timetable. Local Lions are up in arms over the decision.

First, they say they are not solicitors in that sense, and always have turned over every cent to aid blind and near-blind children for operations, eye dogs and schooling.

And second, Serramonte is the only center in the area that forbids them to put their campaign on inside the immediate area. (They were allegedly told to stand by the freeway — off the shopping center property.)

THE CENTER'S POLICY is not unique! Many other shopping centers have the same policy of prohibiting any type of solicitation inside the center itself. In most cases this policy is valued by businessmen operating stores under the center roof to protect their customers from unwanted harassment.

The Lions feel they have always conducted their campaigns (this year's in October 3-4) in a manner beyond reproach, using only volunteer members who are also businessmen in the local community.

Latest word has it that the Lions may not even be able to apply for a booth, because other applicants have already filled out the forms and returned them.

DALY CITY TWINS

Mirrored Enforcement

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Daly City claims the distinct (and sometimes dubious) honor of having the only set of twin brothers on an active police force in the United States.

"Dubious" because the identical McHenry brothers — John and James — cause nothing less than hair-tearing confusion among their superior officers while on duty.

Off duty, John and James McHenry maintain their unwanted habit of bewildering those who don't know which McHenry they are talking to.

But close associates have figured out how to tell which is which:

John is left-handed and Jim is right handed. All one has to do is offer something to the McHenry he is confronted with and if he reaches with his left hand . . . that's John.

Captain Jack Walsh, the McHenry's superior officer, confesses he is often confused when dealing with the brothers — especially at roll call, or at the scene of an incident.

Both brothers are on the same 4 p.m. to midnight shift and often wind up working on the same case.

And while most officers are identified on the police work roster by their last name, the McHenry's have both first and last names marked on the sheet.

John McHenry was born three minutes before Jim on April 23, 1945, in San Francisco. The boys have been "very close all their lives," according to friends.

James joined the Daly City police force on Aug. 16, 1967 — one year after brother John.

But while John is married and expecting his first child "any hour now," Jim has remained single and resides with his mother in Daly City.

"I've learned to call them by their last names when talking with them face to face," Capt. Dave Hansen explains. "It prevents mixups."

No Girls

JANE AND DICK POWELL (she's on the Jeff High board of trustees) are foster parents who formerly kept delinquent girls . . . until about six years ago, when they switched to boys.

Why give up girls? "The cases of the girls got a bit difficult to explain to my children, (the Powells have one girl, five boys)," Mrs. Powell said.

"They were getting worse and worse and the cases were getting raunchier and raunchier" the Powells both agreed, "and they were putting 'swingers' in and I just didn't think we wanted to be bothered any more with girls."

Not only that, "Girls take much more time than boys," they recalled. "You have to watch them even more carefully than boys . . . you know, these girls weren't in as runaways; they were in for having all sorts of problems."

A Place to Go

A Recreational Bonanza

Robert Forster's name isn't too well known yet, but he's the most promising and impressive new young actor to come along since Dustin Hoffman. And it's fair to compare them because not one of their respective film assignments has gone unnoticed or without critical acclaim.

Only 28 years old, with four films to his credit, Forster has stepped up in billing and in salary from unknown in "Reflections in a Golden Eye" (he rode nude on a horse and was the object of Marlon Brando's close scrutiny), to the half breed Indian in "Stalking Moon" with Gregory Peck.

He's currently on local movie screens as the idealistic, hotheaded brother-in-law of "Justine" in the film of the same name. His fourth acting job is the lead in "Medium Cool," the much-talked-about account of a television cameraman's commitment during the Chicago Democratic Convention riots.

Has his career jumped to where he's no longer free to do small interesting roles?

"IN HOLLYWOOD THEY THINK IF YOU DON'T RAISE YOUR PRICE, or get above title billing, you're on your way to being washed up. My agent is now my manager and he's got me strong, thoughtful roles. Because of him I've done very well. From now on, I'll do what I want, hopefully big roles that are as rewarding as small ones." the dark-haired actor told us over lunch at the Mark Hopkins Hotel on Friday.

He was fresh from his one Broadway role, playing opposite Arlene Francis in "Mrs. Dally" when Director John Huston cast him in "Reflections."

"It was great working with such a man, but even greater that he let me develop the character alone. I gave him my interpretation and he had enough confidence in me to use my ideas."

Motorists and sportsmen have a new place to go this year — Oroville, the historic Gold Rush town at the foot of the fabulous upper Feather River country, 70 miles north of Sacramento.

The attraction is the big, new Oroville Dam and the various boating, fishing and camping playgrounds that have sprung up around the dam and the huge reservoir behind it, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Everything about this dam is monumental. It is the highest earth-filled dam in the world, the highest dam in the United States, and the keystone of history's most ambitious water development project.

At 770 feet — 44 feet higher than giant Hoover Dam — it is as tall as a 62-story building and as imposing as any of the nearby hills.

With over 167 miles of shoreline and a 15,500 acre surface, Lake Oroville is a recreational bonanza. Stretching back from the dam, the blue waters of the lake lap at wooded slopes and surge against rocky canyon walls that occasionally soar up like the sheer walls of a fjord.

ALREADY BOATMEN have found the waters of the lake ideal for sailing, motorboating and water skiing, and campers and hikers have found new shores to breathe the sweet, pure air of the great outdoors.

Three recreational areas and a 13-lane boat ramp and boat service area at one end of the mile-long crest of the dam are completed. One of the recreational areas, a grassy picnic park, complete with two-lane boat ramp and dressing rooms for swimmers, is located on the shore of the North Forebay (reached by driving north from Oroville on Highway 70 and turning off at the Garden Drive interchange).

Another with a four-lane boat ramp and picnic area is on the South Forebay, three miles west of Oroville on Grand Avenue.

The third, Loafers Creek, is the largest and the only one so far located on Lake Oroville. It is also the one with the most facilities — 33 camping sites, swimming beach, park and trailer accommodations, boat ramp and picnic sites.

Located in historic, thick-wooded Bidwell Canyon, Loafers Creek is reached via the Oroville-Quincy highway. Although most all outdoorsmen will find something enjoyable about Lake Oroville, fishermen in particular will be enthusiastic.

For All People

FOR ALL THE PEOPLE . . . By All The People is a report on Equal Opportunity in State and Local Government Employment. It was issued in July by the United States Commission on Civil Rights.

The study represents the employment practices of all governments located within each of seven major metropolitan areas in representative parts of the country. The seven areas are: San Francisco-Oakland, Philadelphia, Detroit, Atlantic, Houston, Memphis and Baton Rouge.

Negroes held slightly less than one-fourth of the full-time State and local jobs reported by the seven areas surveyed in 1969. Their employment ranged from about seven per cent of the total State and local work force in metropolitan Baton Rouge to thirty-nine per cent in Memphis.

The proportion of Negroes in public employment in Detroit and Philadelphia was twice their proportion of the population. In four other areas: San Francisco, Oakland, Memphis, Atlantic and Houston Negroes in public employment represented roughly the same proportion as in this population.

IN MOST OF THE SEVEN metropolitan areas Negro employment in State and local government was significantly higher than in public industry. In the San Francisco - Oakland area the number of Negroes employed by local jurisdictions was significantly lower than the number employed by the Federal Government.

Negroes are underrepresented in the managerial occupations and for the most part in professional jobs. In the seven cities more Negroes are beginning to enter white-collar jobs than previously.

IN MANAGERIAL AND PROFESSIONAL jobs the difference between the southern and northern cities is significant. In Baton Rouge where 330 white persons held jobs in city offices concerned with administering the government, not a single Negro was employed. In Atlanta and Memphis the number runs less than eleven per cent, and those Negroes in administration in these cities are generally in clerical jobs.

Large numbers of Negroes are hired as civilian employees of police departments, but a mere twenty per cent of the uniformed policemen are Negro. In San Francisco and Oakland less than four per cent of the policemen were Negro.

The number of Negro firemen is even less than the number of Negro policemen. For the most part the employment pattern within the various departments of government holds true in State and local employment.

IN THE REPORT, table 28 in the back of the book lists the distribution of minority employees by ethnic groups. San Mateo County is reported with 2,614 total employees. 8.8 are Negro; 1.7 are Spanish - American while 2.4 are Oriental American.

All others are ordinary whites. The figures for Daly City show 269 employees. 1.9 are Negro; 4.1 are Spanish-American; 1.1 are Oriental American. In Pacifica no per cent of the 113 employees are Negro. 6.2 per cent are Spanish - American; no per cent are Oriental American.

Forty per cent of the employees of the Housing Authority of the City of Oakland are Negroes. No other city, agency, or special district comes anywhere near this figure. 20.3 per cent of the total employees of Alameda County are Negro while 18.5 per cent of San Francisco's 16,223 employees are Negro. 2.1 per cent are Spanish - American and 4.3 per cent are Oriental American.

For All The People . . . By All The People may be secured from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government, Washington, D.C. 20402 for one dollar.

Brunan in Drive To Free POW

A drive to free the serviceman held prisoner for the longest time in U.S. history began this week in the Bay Area.

Lt. Everett Alvarez, a naval flier and electrical engineering graduate from the University of Santa Clara, was shot down on his first mission from the USS Constellation on August 5, 1964.

He was the first U.S. flier taken prisoner and for 18 months was the lone U.S. prisoner of the North Vietnamese in Hanoi.

His five years in confinement is the longest ever served by a U.S. fighting man. His wife of four months when he was captured lives now in Lafayette and is the only one permitted to receive one letter a month from Alvar. No journalists or Red Cross officials have ever been allowed to talk with Alvarez.

Petitions are being circulated in the Bay Area to President Nixon asking for "more forceful action to release Lieutenant Alvarez." It notes that other prisoners of war have been released although none has been confined as long as the young pilot.

The local drive is being directed by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sanchez, 2350 Evergreen Drive, San Bruno. Sanchez is a cousin of Alvarez. Mrs. Sanchez has been appearing before service clubs seeking help and anyone wishing to help pass out petitions may contact the Sanchez-

Rookie Nabs 3: 110-M.P.H. Chase

A Daly City police rookie with only three days on the beat was credited with the arrest of three auto theft suspects following a 110 mile per hour chase early Friday.

Officer Louis Donati spotted a car without license plates at the intersection of Alemany and Lake Merced Boulevards shortly after 2 a.m.

When he attempted to stop the car, the driver accelerated and sped off towards San Francisco. The chase led officer Donati up to Skyline Boulevard, around Lake Merced, past the zoo and down Sloat Boulevard.

A San Francisco patrol unit came to the aid of Donati and blocked the roadway forcing the suspect car to stop, following an eight mile follow-the-leader chase.

Arrested was driver Frank Costillo, 25, Roger Fabris, 25, both of San Francisco, and a 16-year-old San Bruno girl who said she was a girl friend of Fabris.

The girl was booked into Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Costillo was charged with auto theft, reckless driving and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, while Fabris was charged with auto theft and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Donati's superior officer, Lt. Tom Culley, said he was putting the young officer in for a special commendation "for a job well done."

$4 Million Contracts For Airport OK'd

More than $4,000,000 worth of airport construction contracts, by San Francisco International Airport and its tenants, were approved last week by the city's Public Utilities Commission.

Biggest job is a $1,900,000 contract to Plombo Construction Company of San Carlos for filling, grading, and drainage of 180 acres of former cow pasture between San Bruno and the airport, west of Bayshore Freeway.

Airport Manager George Hansen said the first use of that property will be Pan American World Airways' $4,000,000 inflight food preparation center, approved last month by the Commission.

Tenant work approved by the Commissioners, which does not come out of city funds, was a $684,684 bid by the American Contracting Company for installing communications and power lines to the American Airlines "superbay" 747 hangar, now being built across the field from the main passenger terminal.

Approval was also given Western Airlines' plans to develop a $450,000 air cargo handling facility at its new hangar on the north service road. The new hangar was completed last year at a cost of $4,000,000, Hansen said.

Airborne Rapid Transit System for S.F. Suggested

A group of professors is suggesting an airborne rapid transit system for the San Francisco area with 24 landing places.

Proposed is the use of 80-passenger vertical rising aircraft, compound helicopters for which wings furnish the lift during normal flight.

Such planes, the professor said, can fly at 50 miles an hour and can be loaded and unloaded in two minutes by having two doors in each 10-passenger compartment.

Planes would fly only in pre-assigned "sky corridors."

Developed as part of Stanford University's summer faculty program, the group of professors was sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Costs would be about 17 cents per passenger mile, the group said.

The proposed terminals would be at the San Francisco Ferry Building, San Francisco International Airport, Oakland International Airport, San Jose Municipal Airport, Sacramento, Canfield Park, Redwood City, Mountain View, Palo Alto, Oakland-Piedmont, Concord, Salinas, Monterey, Newark-Fremont, Hayward, Berkeley, San Pablo, Richmond, San Rafael, Stockton, Vallejo, Santa Rosa, Travis Air Force Base-Fairfield, Antioch and Santa Cruz.

As an example, the professor said that the system could move a commuter between San Jose 14 minutes for $6.77, according to Associated Press.

City, County Meet On Airport Blvd.

South San Francisco is anxious to begin work on widening and improvement of a portion of Airport Boulevard, estimated to cost $348,895.

The only hold-up appears to be a question of how much money the county board of supervisors are willing to contribute to the project. The city is asking for 50 per cent participation.

Councilmen and supervisors met at the Leaning Tower restaurant in South San Francisco at noon last Tuesday to discuss the proposal.

Supervisor Chairman Bob St. Clair's concern was whether the city had enough money available, referring to the fact that the city was presently upgrading Westborough Boulevard.

"Point blank, the county is interested in the project," said St. Clair. "Our first consideration, however, is the Westborough Boulevard project. Once that is completed we'll look at Airport Boulevard. And, of course, we'll have to have the proposal reviewed by our technical staff."

City Manager Tom McKenzie assured the supervisors that the city has sufficient funds "to keep both this (Airport Boulevard) project and Westborough going."

"If we were to give approval and authorize money within 30 days," asked Supervisor James Fitzgerald, "How soon would you be able to start?"

McKenzie emphasized that the city is ready to go ahead immediately.

Teacher's Resignation Is Accepted by Board, But Not on His Terms

By BOB PETERSON

Jefferson Elementary School District board members last week accepted the resignation of a controversial school teacher on their terms, not his.

Meanwhile, a group within the audience of about 50 persons, the majority of them women, called for more sterner action — like having the teacher's credentials removed.

Board members were prepared for the outcry. They had invited Jim Foley, assistant district attorney for San Mateo County, and the school district's legal advisor, to the meeting.

Foley was in attendance at the hour-long executive session prior to the meeting, and stayed until the motion had been made and approved by the board members.

Board member William Schumacher read a two-page letter as the motion:

"I move that the resignation of Mr. Armand Kerin, teacher at the Ben Franklin School be accepted, effective September 7, 1969. Not for the reasons stated in his letter of that date, but for the fact that his services are no longer desired."

Kerin had stipulated that the reason he was submitting his resignation was "due to harassment on the part of the superintendent."

Schumacher's letter stated that Kerin, "On at least three occasions refused to answer the questions of the district superintendent which had resulted from allegations and inquiries made by several parents in the district as well as members of the board regarding his vocabulary and the methods he used in conducting his classes."

"Despite (Kerin's) repeated assertions that he had desired to set the records straight relative to the allegations, he steadfastly refused to reply in writing to the superintendent; verbally in the privacy of the superintendent's office with a witness of his (the teacher's) own choice; and declined the superintendent's offer to have him appear before the board in executive session to clarify any matter relative to the situation."

"Kerin felt free to discuss the allegations with members of the Ben Franklin (school) staff as well as several parents in the community in an obvious attempt to gain support for himself while he declined to settle the matter as per the superintendent's instructions," continued the letter.

"While the superintendent and board made very reasonable attempt to protect the privacy of Mr. Kerin, he, himself, discussed it openly and in a manner considered by the board and superintendent to be unprofessional."

There was no explicit explanation given as to what the "vocabulary and methods he used in conducting his classes" were even though several members of the audience asked that it be brought out.

Superintendent Frank Greenwood told the audience he could not be more specific, on the advice of the district attorney. "We have been in counsel on it and have gone through the alternatives," said Greenwood.

"We decided to accept the resignation and leave the specifics to the conjecture. Any statements made, either by the board or you (members of the audience) can put you subject to libel."

Kerin had been informed by the superintendent that he would be reassigned as a substitute teacher until he had satisfied the administration that he was competent to resume his duties, and that failure to comply with requests for answers to the allegations would result in the filing of formal charges of insubordination.

Meantime, Kerin, according to Schumacher's letter, solicited another contract with another school district when he already had one in effect with the Jefferson Elementary School District. (Kerin stated in his resignation that he had accepted a position in the Berkeley School system.)

"He (Kerin) made application to another district on March 15; was interviewed on May 15; offered a contract on August 29; signed it August 30; and did not file a letter of resignation until September 7, three days after he was to report for duty," said the letter.

Apparently to placate the concerned parents, the final draft of the letter stated that the teacher was under investigation by both the Boardman and Daly City Police Departments. The results of these investigations have been forwarded to the California Teachers' Credential Commission for appropriate action.

Greenwood said this commission, after their own investigation of the matter, may, if they wish, revoke the teacher's credentials.

Mrs. Dorothy Adams was the only board member to vote negative on the motion for accepting the resignation. Asked why, she said, "I might make a statement at a later date."

SECOND LOSS IN SEVEN YEARS

S.I. Halts S.S.F. Warrior Attack

By JERRY LITTELL
Post Sports Writer

It's been nearly 20 years since South San Francisco last journeyed to the big city to play St. Ignace and as far as coach Ray DeJong is concerned the Warriors could have waited another couple of decades.

All sorts of firsts were set Friday in Kezar Stadium, none of them on the positive side for the Warriors, as powerful St. Ignace, now odds-on favorites to win the West Catholic Athletic League title, rolled to a 13-0 victory over the defending North Peninsula League champions.

It was the first loss since 1967 for the Industrial City eleven, only the second loss in the past seven years and the first time DeJong's charges have been shut out since Hillsdale pulled a 14-0 blanking in 1961. It was also the first time in an ice age that the grinder ground attack was held under 100 yards total, 61 to be exact.

The Warriors began one of their patented marches after the opening kickoff placed the ball on the 32. After moving 40 yards downfield in seven plays the Warriors pulled a play that was just too well executed. Quarterback Brad Brian faked a handoff to fullback Rich Goldstein on the 30 and scooted around left end for a near score. But the officials went with the fake, as did the entire St. Ignace line, and the play was blown dead two yards from scrimmage.

"That was a real unfortunate call at that point," DeJong noted. "If it had been called right we might have scored then or soon after and we would have had that foot in the door. Take nothing away from St. Ignace, though, they have a mighty fine football team."

Despite the closeness of the statistics, the Wildcats outplayed the Warriors right up front where it hurts the losing team the most. Wiry halfback Rick Hamilton, just a junior, carried the ball 21 times and slithered for 80 yards and the game rushing honors. The Wildcats picked on the middle of the SSF interior line, thought to be one of the Warrior strong points, and doubled the rushing yardage the Warriors were to get.

Brian was able to hit both Donovan Wood and Joe Majka consistently on the short-gain passes but the Warrior line was unable to open consistent holes to establish the running game.

Leo Bernardini took team honors with 53 yards, the lowest total any SSF runner has managed in several years.

LEWIS STARS AGAIN

Westmoor's Rams Defeat San Mateo High, 26 to 0

What was to have been a banner year for San Mateo High School's football squad could have ended rather shabbily on Friday on Westmoor High School's wind-whipped field.

For it was there that the Bearcats were shut out for the second straight week by a North Peninsula League team as Pete Matis's Rams ran up a 26-0 blanking. South San Francisco held the Bearcats scoreless last week, 19-0.

San Mateo coach Buzz Williams started a new backfield yesterday but timing mistakes and sloppy ball handling nullified even that move. After just two offensive plays the Bearcats had fumbled twice and lost the second one on the seven-yard line. Still another offside mistake cost them three more yards before the Rams first offensive thrust. Al Lieske's three-plus run, made it 6-0.

With sub quarterback Robert Gomes handling the squad, San Mateo looked like it might be ready to shake out of the scoreless doldrums on the next, and only, sustained drive. But a pass interception after 18 plays and 53 yards by safety Jim Lewis ended those hopes.

Three plays later Lewis, who run 136 yards of the Rams' 170-yard total, slipped by everyone for a 51-yard romp and the laughter was on. After a short San Mateo drive the Rams gained possession on the 38, Bearcat. End Calvin Swann grabbed just one pass all day for 14 yards as the entire Bearcat air game gained just 30 yards.

Ram quarterback Swallow, meanwhile, parlayed the shifty and strong wind currents into six completions for 153 aerial yards.

Mistakes were the story throughout once again. Two fake punts by San Mateo ended in lost yardage and key breakdowns in the offensive protection put strain on both Gomes and Chambers. Halfback Frank Rivers, hampered slightly by a knee injury sustained in the tussle on Friday, got loose on a 53-yard scoring jaunt. But as he crossed into the end zone a San Mateo tackler clipped a Westmoor player over 30 yards away from paydirt and the score was nullified.

Quarterback Jack Chambers took over the reins after San Mateo was down 20 points but even his precision passes couldn't shake loose the mysterious shackles that bind the Bearcat. End Calvin Swann grabbed just one pass all day for 14 yards as the entire Bearcat air game gained just 30 yards.

An Open Letter To 49er Chief Lou Spadia

By LE PACINI

ONE OF OUR CONSTANT READERS, retired Naval Ichthyologist Third Class J. Lamar Bug-Bug, offers herewith in an open letter to 49er President Lou Spadia some views he has accumulated on the 49ers in his many years as a sports voyeur:

"DEAR MR. SPADIA:

"For several gloomy years I have followed the variable fortunes of the Forty Niners and the titular quarterback J. Brodie.

"Yet the many months of musing and brooding have brought forth but two firm conclusions. A discouraging output, perhaps, but when I tell you that one of them is rather melancholy and the other is full of jubilation and that in that way they balance each other out, you will realize that in spite of a meager amount of conclusions I am of a philosophical bent. Moderation in all things is a watchword.

"1. The melancholy conclusion: God has no plan for the universe.

"2. The jubilant conclusion: John Brodie is the only quarterback in football who has never had a pass intercepted.

"Webster's defines interception: Interception to seize or stop

Terra Nova Is Defeated By Hillsdale

Hillsdale High School has detected a slight flaw in the old adage "the bigger they are, the harder they fall," and has altered it to read "the littler they are, the easier they crumble."

The big unit moved into the coastal hamlet of Pacifica for a few hours yesterday and when they withdrew the Knights left a crumbled Terra Nova High unit in its wake with a 28-0 victory.

"They were just too big for us," mumbled the losing mentor after the loss.

With quarterback Brad Metheany leading the way, the Knights jumped out to a quick 14-0 lead in the first five minutes of play and never looked back.

Actually, the game was over almost before it got started as on the way, or before arrival at the intended place; to stop or interrupt the course of.

"John Brodie, as hundreds of fee of film will testify, throws the ball DIRECTLY (straight as an arrow, as the saying goes) to an opposing player. How can such an act be considered an 'interception'?"

"In all fairness to Mr. Brodie and his unique record, his 'interceptions' should be listed in the official record as completed passes. Perhaps an asterisk might be used to indicate that a certain number were completed to opposing players.

Very truly yours, J. Lamar Bub-Bug

THERE IS ONLY ONE REASON why we're not elated that the Mets won their division and that the Cubs did not, and that reason is Ernie Banks. For years Banks has been predicting a Cub pennant, and meaning it. Old Mr. Optimism was predicting pennants in years when even Phil Wrigley knew his club would come in last.

For most of this season, Banks was, at last, right. And now he's wrong.

Banks is a very nice guy, almost too nice to believe. Several years ago a writer friend of ours was commissioned by the major sports magazine in the country to do a profile on Banks. Our friend researched his subject thoroughly, spending many days with Banks, meeting his family, his friends, former teachers and coaches, indeed reaching as far back into his life as he could. Always he came up with a quote which was to become a cliché, "Ernie Banks is the nicest person I've ever known."

As you might have guessed by now, the magazine paid our friend off and filed the story. "There just isn't a story there," they said, "Banks isn't colorful enough... he's just not believable."

But we're not sad about the Cubs not making it because Banks is a nice guy, but because he's been deprived of something no great athlete should ever be deprived of.

As Banks said it (and we paraphrase) when the Cubs were still riding high, he would be greatly disappointed if the Cubs didn't win the pennant, because he might never know if he was a money player or just a loosey-goosey guy who could deliver only in no-pressure situations.

There is a good chance, now, that Banks will never have the chance of knowing what he could have done in "the moment of truth." And THAT is sad.

PERHAPS THIS IS OUR IMAGINATION, and we're being paranoid in behalf of Bill Thompson, the Giants' "third" announcer. But have you noticed how Bill Rigney, apparently to avoid confusion, has taken to calling Thompson "Will"? It seems to us that Thompson, having been there first, would have the option on just who in the radio booth is called "Will." Is Rigney determined to be the only "Bill" in the booth, and if so, just how will he implement this coup d'état? For answers to this and other burning questions, tune in daily to KFRC.

IF YOU SCOFFED AT AN ITEM in a recent San Francisco gossip column concerning one Harold L. Grant (executive director of the California Pacific Employers' Association) and how he is trying to obtain a railroad hand car for commuting purposes between his house on Marina Boulevard and his Beach Street office, scoff no more. It's true.

Reason we know it's true is because we called Grant and asked him; and the reason we believe him is because it's one of the sanest things Grant has ever done.

This is the same Hal Grant of San Francisco State College marathon running fame, mind you, who stunned the marathon running world back in the early '50's when he entered the Boston Marathon after having trained on beer for several weeks and actually nearly finished the race.

That one remarkable gesture struck a blow for collegiate beer drinkers at a time in history when the State College system thought panty raids were scandalous. Grant uplifted the dignity of beer drinkers on campus for all time with his feat.

Hal is now, of course, a staid executive and still in marathon shape. And what's more, he doesn't believe in jogging. Our hero.

MISCELLANEY: Culled from the Skyline Press, Skyline College's fine first newspaper edition: Giant catcher Jack Hiatt was one of the first enrolled in the exciting new junior college, taking Psychology 1A, History 4B, Sociology 1, and Political Science 21. President of the College Phil Garlington won the Men's 45 singles state championship and was part of the doubles team which took the title in the annual Montana State Open Tennis Championships this summer. Garlington was a star courtman for the University of Montana in his college days.

While we're literally at Skyline, a plug for former Crestmoor journalism teacher and San Francisco State Athletic Publicity Director Sam Goldman, who's now head of the journalism department and PR man for Skyline.

Sam put out the first edition of the Skyline Press virtually single-handed and kept Skyline's name in the papers all summer, which was quite remarkable considering the fact that the school wasn't even open; and that now that it's open, it still isn't completed.

(Sam's journalism classes, for example, are located in the boiler room, next to the girls' locker and shower rooms... a location Goldman undoubtedly scouted before he consented to move in.)

But, Sam still keeps Skyline's name in the papers, which is a service to the community, because Skyline will soon be one of the most beautiful and dynamic junior college campuses in Northern California — and kids and their parents should know about it.

halfback Don Dean took a hand-off on the opening play and sped around right end for a 78-yard touchdown jaunt on the first play of the contest.

Moments later Hillsdale took over on Terra Nova's 21-yard line and four plays later Steve Santini of Hillsdale broke into the end zone and fumbled, only to have team mate Bill Seright fall on the ball for the score.

Metheany, who passed for 114 yards, engineered the Knights to their next two scores.

Aragon Hands Jefferson Its Second Loss

Prosperity isn't always hiding somewhere on the other side of the rainbow.

The Aragon Dons, recipients of a 5-6 spanking at the hands of Westmoor last week, found comfort and optimism in victory on the tattered turf at Jefferson High School Friday.

The Dons tuned up for their impending MPL wars by racing to a 20-0 victory over North Peninsula League foe Jefferson in a practice contest which revealed that Aragon is a grid team to be reckoned with.

With halfbacks Rich Lent and Steve Boschetti leading the way, the San Mateo team repulsed the Indians at every juncture in evening out their pre-season mark at 1-1.

"We are a young ball club and I think that we have great potential," stated head coach Hal Huffman. "In addition,"

Huffman continued, "our quarterback (Steve Newby) was really handling the ball well today."

"Our defense moved in very effectively, and then again we didn't face those monsters (Westmoor) that we faced last week," he realistically added.

Lent, who was Aragon's leading ball packer with 54 yards in 16 carries, capped a 37-yard drive midway through the second period with a four-yard scoring burst up the middle.

Greg Komosarek set up the Dons' second score in the third period when he picked up a Jeff fumble on the latter's 31 yard stripe and rammed all of the way to the three yard line. Two plays later Boschetti dove in from two yards out to make it 12-0.

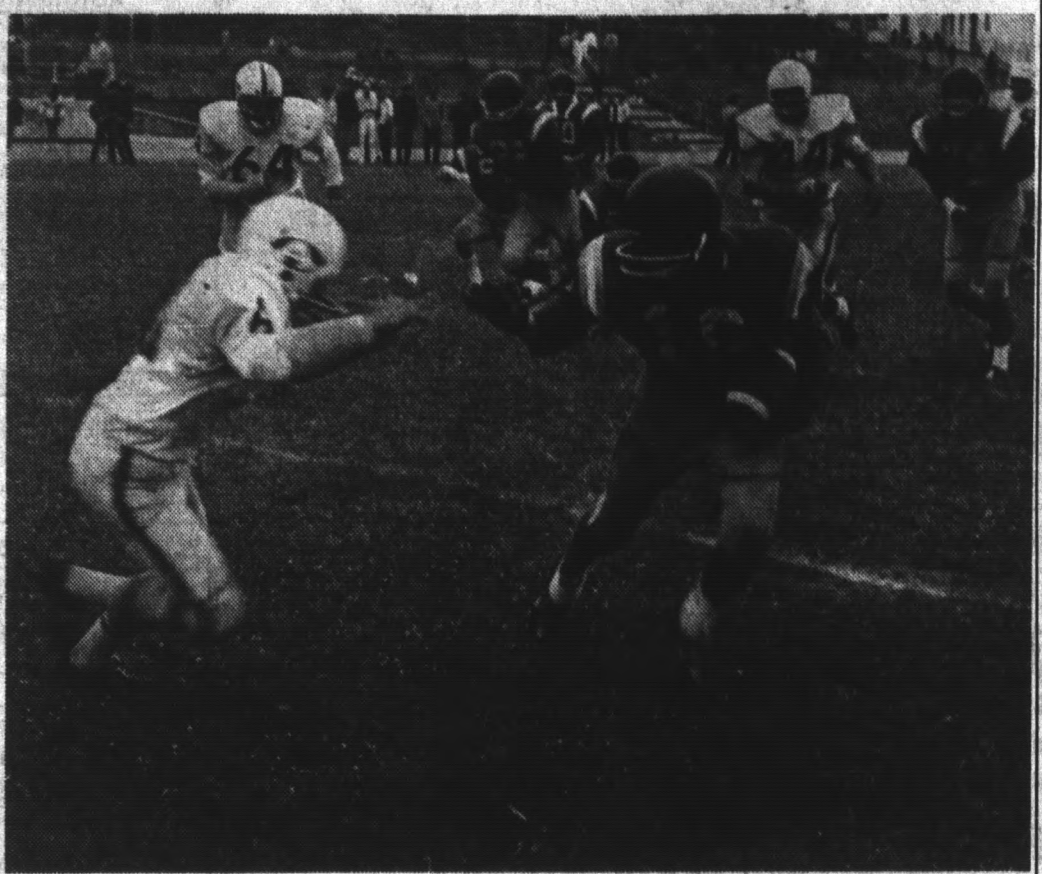

End Mike Pavone and Newby hooked up for the final Aragon touchdown late in the third quarter, with the latter flipping a seven-yard scoring toss to Pavone.

The host Indians just couldn't seem to do anything right as, after holding Aragon on the Jeff two yard line, quarterback Tony Moss faded back on first down and was hauled down in the end zone for an Aragon safety.

But Sharks Lose

First Serramonte Win

For the Oceana Sharks, the Bay Bridge turned out to be a little longer coming back from the East Bay than it did going over.

Coach Jess Jones' Sharks watched an early 6-0 lead dissipate as the host Albany team went on to a 22-13 win.

Junior halfback Dave Williams started things going with a 64-yard scoring jaunt to put the Sharks on the scoreboard in the second period. Brazilian transfer student Kloviss Klipel made it 6-3 with a 20-yard field goal for Albany, followed by a 30-yard touchdown pass from Randy Hansen to Tim Johnson which put Albany ahead for keeps 9-6. Bob Santos scored the Sharks' final touchdown with a 24-yard run following a fumble recovery.

Elsewhere, Dan Patch's two touchdown runs paced Serramonte to its first-ever varsity win in history as the Daly City eleven squashed San Rafael Military, 26-0.

Half Moon Bay Whallops Falcons

By JEREMY ROBINSON
Post Staff Writer

The green artichoke patches of Half Moon Bay have taken on a successful hue this season.

And it can all be attributed to the Cougar football team, which won its second game in as many outings Friday, giving Half Moon Bay its best grid start in modern history.

The Cougars powered to a 30-0 shutout over the Crestmoor Falcons at Burlingame Field Friday night. It was also the second setback for the San Bruno boys.

The Cougars struck first with 4:43 remaining in the first quarter when quarterback Jim Emery rolled out and bootlegged the ball 33-yard to daylight. Halfback Jack Jones notched the two-point conversion with an end sweep.

Crestmoor, having trouble mounting an offense, did not get its initial first down until 3:12 was left in the second period. Fullback Denis Carroll bulldozed to the Crestmoor 33. After quarterback Dave Thompson put the Falcons on their own 49 with a pass to Don Phell, it looked like the San Brunos might yet get on the scoreboard. But their drive fizzled in all-to-typical fashion with an illegal procedure penalty, and they were forced to punt.

The bigger Half Moon Bay lads put the contest under wraps in the fourth quarter when they tallied 22 points, again led by Emery. The gutsy 175-pounder geared his charges on the 95-yard drive, which culminated with a five-yard toss to Jones.

After Guard Miguel Galvin recovered a muffed Crestmoor pitchout on the Falcon 35, Emery taking a tip from the pros, went for the bomb. He hit paydirt in the person of end Scott Heaslett.

Defensive end Jerry Heuman aided the romp by lumbering 73-yards with a recovered fumble. Flankerback Ron Clements added the finishing touch flashy double-reverse on the two-point conversion.

WE TRADE — TRY US AND SEE

SWING YOUR PARTNER? — We don't think they're supposed to be holding hands out there (and perhaps they're not, really) and it's likely the Westmoor receiver (dark jersey) doesn't think so, either... but, he caught the football just the same during the Ram-San Mateo Game Friday.

Mat Program Has Openings In South S.F.

There are still openings for fifth-eighth grade boys in the free wrestling workouts being offered at the El Camino High School wrestling room every Saturday morning, starting at 10 a.m.

The young athletes will be taught wrestling fundamentals by El Camino High School coach Mike Heffernan, Lee Allen of Skyline College and Al Abraham of San Francisco State.

The boys will wrestle in their own age and weight divisions. Gym shoes and sweat pants are recommended and no street shoes or jeans will be permitted.

There is no charge for the eight-week program. Wrestlers are encouraged to meet at the El Camino High School gym entrance at 10 a.m. ready to sign up and workout.

KIDS: LOSE CLOTHING?

Clothing left at the various playgrounds throughout Daly City will be on display at the War Memorial Building, 134 Hillside Boulevard. Persons hoping to reclaim items may identify them through October 3, from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Clothing not claimed by October 3 will be donated to a charitable organization.

El Camino Suffers 30-6 Rout From Capuchino Unit

There's not too much doubt left — Capuchino's new quarterback is able to throw the ball. If you question that fact just check with the El Camino defensive secondary.

Left-hander Keith Hernandez, who transferred into the Mustang fold along with older brother Gary just last year from Terra Nova, made his first varsity football appearance a successful one in pitching the Cap squad to a 30-6 rout of the Colts. It was the second loss for El Camino and the first win in Cap's first try.

No one is quite sure if Cap has an accompanying ground game but no one is really too concerned. If Hernandez throws as he did on Friday on South San Francisco's Clifford Field the Mustangs won't need much more than blocking backs. The junior signal-caller completed 23 of 38 passes, 61 per cent, for 328 yards and three touchdowns (plus a few PAT points for good measure).

His favorite targets were Craig Dazzell (11-83) and Jim Geyer (8-94).

After a scoreless first quarter the Mustangs fired up to score twice when Hernandez found Dazzell from the seven and came back with a six-yarder to Geyer on the next series. Coming out of intermission with a 16-0 bulge, the Mustangs had their lead shortened a bit when Colt quarterback Joey Shannon slid over from the four.

But Hernandez wound up and threw about 30-score more and, after senior defensive back Jim Ritchey picked off a Colt aerial for a 22-yard score, the left-handed quarterback hit Geyer from the 11 for the last tally.

Defensive tackle Dan Meschi earned praise from new head coach Vince Marchi as did Hernandez, Dazzell and Geyer. Only 40 of the 368 Mustang yards were on the ground as Mid-Peninsula League coaches can expect to see an aerial circus when the Mustangs hit town.

Six Teams Competing

The Daly City Recreation Department's seventh and eighth grade flag football league got off to a rousing start last week as six teams began competition.

On Wednesday, Sam Baxter's two touchdown catches were to no avail, for the Packers lost to a tough Black Devil team, 20-12. In a tight game the Colts edged the Gladiator, 0-1, on a safety.

On Thursday, the Panthers beat the Packers, 20-13, behind Darrell Ball's two touchdowns. Pete Jurand and Sam Baxter each scored in that game.

All games are played at Colma Intermediate School.

Adult Golf Instruction In Daly City

Cost is $8 a person for the full program. Individuals participating in this program will receive instruction in etiquette, terminology, stance, swing, theory and additional golfing techniques.

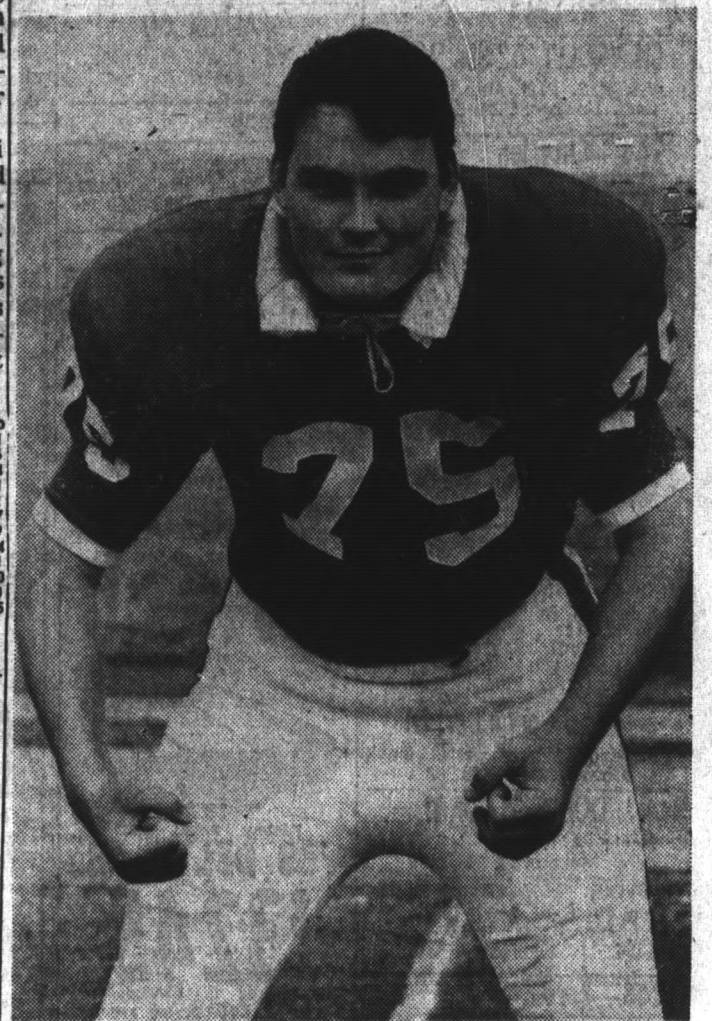

Participants will be asked to bring their own clubs, however, balls will be provided. Sign-ups are being taken now by the Recreation Department.

Only a limited number may attend in each class.

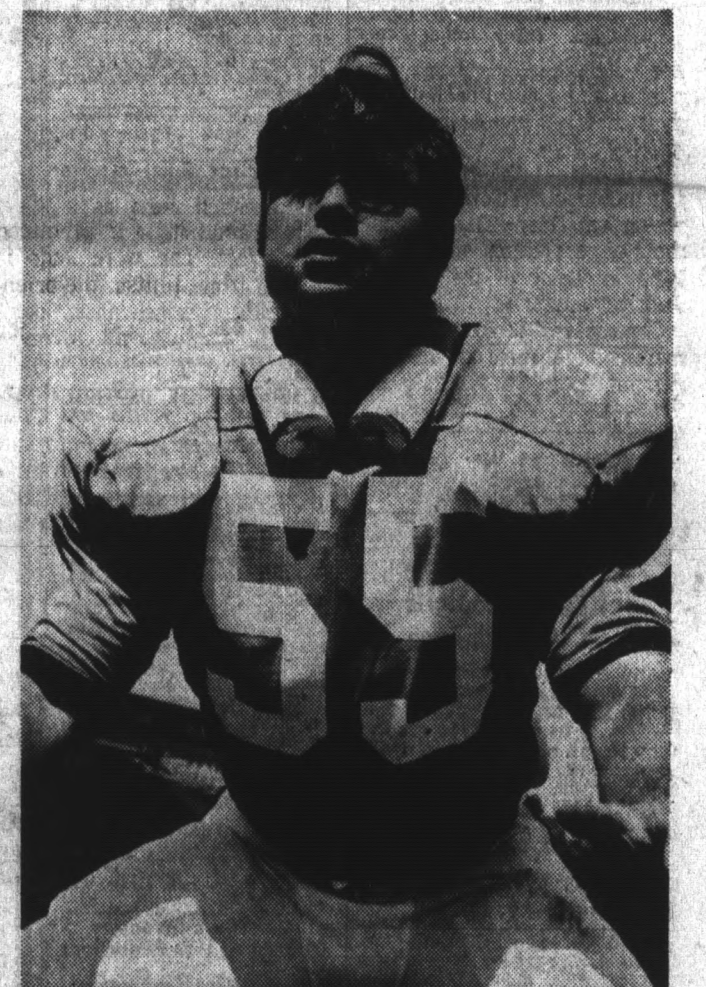

Program I will start October 14; Program II, October 15.

Deadline for sign-ups is October 7.

Plans For Westlake Park Center Seen

The Daly City Council and Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association has reviewed preliminary plans for a $350,000 community center-gymnasium to be constructed under joint agreement contract at Westlake Park.

Designed to compliment the adjacent award-winning design of the Fernando Rivera School, the new 15,000-square-foot structure will provide facilities for community get-togethers, such as dances, meetings and official functions.

The project was met with enthusiasm by the council during a recent meeting and city attorney Albert Polonsky was given the go-ahead to draw up all necessary legal paperwork connected with the joint effort.

Construction costs will be borne by the WSIA and will be leased back to Daly City on a pre-determined contractual basis. This would assure that the city did not have to take any money from its own coffers.

Plans for the impressive building were drawn up by the engineering firm of Kicker-Chapman of South San Francisco after several months of meetings between city officials and members of the representatives of the WSIA.

WSIA President Tony Zidich said the facility will be an attractive addition to Daly City and one that will be used "by all the residents."

250 Compete in Daly City Judo Association Tourney

Northern California's Judo Association staged its fourth annual tournament, in Westmoor's gym before several hundred cheering fans.

Sponsors of the day-long affair included Ed Tomasello, representing Daly City's department of recreation, and Ben Palacio, director of the Koyukan Judo organization.

Contestants performed in numerous weight and age divisions ranging from youngsters, eight years and under, to men over forty years. Competitors are classified by belt colors; a white belt signifying a beginner while a black belt belongs to a judo expert. In earning each color, experience, tradition, proficiency and sportsmanship are emphasized in addition to student scholastic merits.

Approximately 260 participants tussled in the annual invitational, with the victorious achieving first, second, and third place awards. The contestants weren't all a localized bunch, as grapplers journeyed from Reno, Watsonville, and various outlying regions in the Bay Area. Engaging in battle

Sunday, were Ron Tsujimoto, last year's high school champ; Bill McCauley, a U.S. Olympic alternate in Mexico's Judo games; Palacio's son, Mitchell, a three-time national victor.

"We teach Judo as a sport and in addition it is practiced defensively. The word Judo is derived from Jujitsu, the oriental means of self-defense," comments Palacio, who conducts Judo classes four times weekly at his studio on Mission street. Once achieving black status, there are ten steps to climb, and Mr. Palacio has risen three levels. There are seven additional steps to surpass before stardom and a new way of life is attained.

LADIES' TEAM

There are still openings for teams in the Ladies' Basketball League and the Ladies' 3-Pitch Softball league in Pacifica. Those wishing to sign up a team or to play on a team may contact Dave Barry at City Hall. Both leagues will start the week of October 13.

Breaks Neck In Dive Into Bruno Pool

A 24-year-old man suffered a fractured neck Thursday when he dove into the shallow end of San Bruno's municipal swimming pool to retrieve a baseball, according to police.

The victim, Martin Wyman of 3029 Willow Way, San Bruno, was taken to Peninsula Hospital, where sources described his condition as critical today.

Authorities said Nyman, his brother Gilbert, and Ray Galley were batting and throwing a baseball at 1 p.m., near the plunge in City Park, when the victim hit the ball over a chain-link fence into the pool.

Martin Nyman climbed the six-foot-plus fence, Gilbert Nyman told police, apparently saw the ball in the water of the pool and dove in.

But, he was at the shallow end and his head struck the bottom of the pool.

Mr. Rodeo Announcer Rides Again

"Mr. Rodeo Announcer," Cy Tallon has once again been named as announcer and master of ceremonies for the colorful Grand National Rodeo at the Cow Palace, October 24-November 2, the 23rd year at which he has performed the duties.

George Strathearn, Cow Palace manager, also announced the appointment of Cecil Jones of Hayward as rodeo secretary.

Tallon, a veteran of 30 years in rodeo announcing, has worked to more than 100 million rodeo spectators and additional millions through radio and television. His familiarity with personalities and knowledge of the rodeo sport makes it unnecessary for him to carry any written file.

Jones is a 15-year veteran of active rodeo competition who specialized in Brahma bull riding and bareback bronc riding. He was in contention for the National Championships in these events prior to entering the military for World War II.

With the Cow Palace since 1951, Jones has served the Grand National and other major rodeos throughout the United States in the capacity of rodeo secretary.

Five different rodeo events — calf roping, saddle and bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling and bull riding — will again make up the format for the 10-day rodeo, the last major rodeo before the National Finals in Oklahoma City. Professional rodeo's top cowboys will compete for more than $50,000 in prize money.

Arena show action each evening and for each weekend matinee performance will also include events from the Grand National Horse Show, including the World's Championship Jumper Sweepstakes. Also, hundreds of market and breeding livestock will be on the Cow Palace grounds for judging and auction as part of the Grand National Livestock Exposition.

"Saga of the West," episodes from the pioneer days of the American West, will be the special arena attraction for this Silver Anniversary Grand National.

In conjunction with the Baptist General Conference Sunday school and youth board, Westside will be participating in the contest, along with nearly 600 other churches.

At Westside Sunday School, there are age-graded classes for boys and girls nursery through College, and two adult classes, on the elective basis.

On October 5 at the 11 a.m. worship hour, the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed. At this hour, three new members will be welcomed into the fellowship of the church: Adam McLean, Mrs. Fannie Lewis, and Mrs. Jennie Gaines. Special music for this service will be a vocal duet by Roy King and Alton Swedberg.

Pastor Donnelly will use as his communion meditation, "Two Ways."

During the adult worship hour, a primary church service is conducted for boys and girls ages three through seven. Mrs. Jean Hernandez and Mrs. Rosa Donnelly conduct this hour. Also during the morning service, a nursery is maintained for babies and toddlers.

Three Conference Youth Fellowship Groups meet at 6:15 p.m. each Sunday. Junior Astronauts, a new program has begun, with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pollock sponsors; Junior High CYF with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Corley; and Senior High CYF with Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLean.
